Subsidy Programs Provided by Countries Exporting Softwood Lumber and Softwood Lumber Products to the United States; Request for Comment

AGENCY: Enforcement and Compliance, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

SUMMARY: The Department of Commerce (Commerce) seeks public comment on any subsidies, including stumpage subsidies, provided by certain countries exporting softwood lumber or softwood lumber products to the United States during the period July 1, 2019 through December 31, 2019.

DATES: Comments must be submitted within 30 days after publication of this notice.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Kristen Johnson, AD/CVD Operations, Enforcement and Compliance, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 1401 Constitution Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20230; telephone: (202) 482-4793.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Pursuant to section 805 of Title VIII of the Tariff Act of 1930 (the Softwood Lumber Act of 2008), the Secretary of Commerce is mandated to submit to the appropriate Congressional committees a report every 180 days on any subsidy provided by countries exporting softwood lumber or softwood lumber products to the United States, including stumpage subsidies. Commerce submitted its last subsidy report on December 30, 2019. As part of its newest report, Commerce intends to include a list of subsidy programs identified with sufficient clarity by the public in response to this notice.

Request for Comments

Given the large number of countries that export softwood lumber and softwood lumber products to the United States, we are soliciting public comment only on subsidies provided by countries which had exports accounting for at least one percent of total U.S. imports of softwood lumber by quantity, as classified under Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTSUS) codes 4407.1001, 4407.1100, 4407.1200, 4407.1905, 4407.1906, 4407.1910, during the period July 1, 2019 through December 31, 2019. Official U.S. import data published by the United States International Trade Commission's DataWeb indicate that four countries (Brazil, Canada, Germany, and Sweden) exported softwood lumber to the United States during that time period in amounts sufficient to account for at least one percent of U.S. imports of softwood lumber products. We intend to rely on similar previous six-month periods to identify the countries subject to future reports on softwood lumber subsidies. For example, we will rely on U.S. imports of softwood lumber and softwood lumber products during the period January 1, 2020, through June 30, 2020, to select the countries subject to the next report.

Under U.S. trade law, a subsidy exists where an authority: (i) Provides a financial contribution; (ii) provides any form of income or price support within the meaning of Article XVI of the GATT

1994; or (iii) makes a payment to a funding mechanism to provide a financial contribution to a person, or entrusts or directs a private entity to make a financial contribution, if providing the contribution would normally be vested in the government and the practice does not differ in substance from practices normally followed by governments, and a benefit is thereby conferred.¹

Parties should include in their comments: (1) The country which provided the subsidy; (2) the name of the subsidy program; (3) a brief description (no more than 3-4 sentences) of the subsidy program; and (4) the government body or authority that provided the subsidy.

Submission of Comments

As specified above, to be assured of consideration, comments must be received no later than 30 days after the publication of this notice in the Federal Register. All comments must be submitted through the Federal eRulemaking Portal at <http://www.regulations.gov>, Docket No. ITA-2020-0002. The materials in the docket will not be edited to remove identifying or contact information, and Commerce cautions against including any information in an electronic submission that the submitter does not want publicly disclosed. Attachments to electronic comments will be accepted in Microsoft Word, Excel, or Adobe PDF formats only.

The electronic comments should be addressed to Joseph Laroski, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Policy and Negotiations, at U.S. Department of Commerce, 1401 Constitution Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20230.

Dated: April 22, 2020.

Joseph Laroski,

Deputy Assistant Secretary for Policy and Negotiations.

Large Diameter Welded Pipe From Greece: Preliminary Results of Antidumping Duty Changed Circumstances Review

AGENCY: Enforcement and Compliance, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

¹ See section 771(5)(B) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

SUMMARY: The Department of Commerce (Commerce) is issuing the preliminary results of the changed circumstances review (CCR) of the antidumping duty (AD) order on large diameter welded pipe from Greece.

DATES: Applicable May 6, 2020.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Brittany Bauer, AD/CVD Operations, Office II, Enforcement and Compliance, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 1401 Constitution Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20230; telephone: (202) 482-3860.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On February 21, 2020, in response to a request by Corinth Pipeworks Pipe Industry S.A. (Corinth), a Greek producer of large diameter welded pipe (welded pipe), Commerce published a notice of initiation of a changed circumstances review to partially revoke the antidumping duty order on welded pipe from Greece.¹ The specific types of large diameter welded pipe which are under consideration for partial revocation are described in the Attachment to this notice. In the Initiation Notice, we requested comments from interested parties.² In March 2020, we received comments from Corinth³ and the domestic producers,⁴ and rebuttal comments from Corinth.⁵ On April 9, 2020, we spoke with the domestic producers regarding both this CCR and the CCRs of welded pipe from India.⁶

⁴ The domestic producers are American Cast Iron Pipe Company; Berg Steel Pipe Corp./Berg Spiral Pipe Corp.; Dura-Bond Industries; Stupp Corporation; (individually and as members of the American Line Pipe Producers Association); Greens Bayou Pipe Mill, LP; JSW Steel (USA) Inc.; Skyline Steel; and Trinity Products LLC (collectively the petitioners in the less-than-fair-value investigation) and Welspun Global Trade LLC.

⁶ See Memorandum, "AD Order on Large Diameter Welded Pipe from Greece; AD and CVD Orders on Large Diameter Welded Pipe from India—Ex Parte Memorandum," dated April 14, 2020.

Scope of the Order

The merchandise covered by this order is welded carbon and alloy steel line pipe (other than stainless steel pipe), more than 406.4 mm (16 inches) in nominal outside diameter (large diameter welded line pipe), regardless of wall thickness, length, surface finish, grade, end finish, or stenciling. Large diameter welded pipe may be used to transport oil, gas, slurry, steam, or other fluids, liquids, or gases.

Large diameter welded line pipe is used to transport oil, gas, or natural gas liquids and is normally produced to the American Petroleum Institute (API) specification 5L. Large diameter welded line pipe can be produced to comparable foreign specifications, grades and/or standards or to proprietary specifications, grades and/or standards, or can be non-graded material. All line pipe meeting the physical description set forth above, including any dual- or multiple-certified/stenciled pipe with an API (or comparable) welded line pipe certification/stencil, is covered by the scope of the orders.

Subject merchandise also includes large diameter welded line pipe that has been further processed in a third country, including but not limited to coating, painting, notching, beveling, cutting, punching, welding, or any other processing that would not otherwise remove the merchandise from the scope of the order if performed in the country of manufacture of the in-scope large diameter welded line pipe.

Excluded from the scope of the order is structural pipe, which is produced only to American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) standards A500, A252, or A53, or other relevant domestic specifications, or comparable foreign specifications, grades and/or standards or to proprietary specifications, grades and/or standards. Also excluded is large diameter welded pipe produced only to specifications of the American Water Works Association (AWWA) for water and sewage pipe.

The large diameter welded line pipe that is subject to the order is currently classifiable in the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTSUS) under subheadings 7305.11.1030, 7305.11.1060, 7305.11.5000, 7305.12.1030, 7305.12.1060, 7305.12.5000, 7305.19.1030, 7305.19.1060, and 7305.19.5000. Merchandise currently classifiable under subheadings 7305.31.4000, 7305.31.6090, 7305.39.1000 and 7305.39.5000 and that otherwise meets the above scope language is also covered. While the HTSUS subheadings are provided for convenience and customs purposes, the written description of the scope of the order is dispositive.

Preliminary Results of Changed Circumstances Review

In this changed circumstances review, pursuant to section 751(b) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act), Commerce is considering the partial revocation of the order on welded pipe from Greece. The Greek welded pipe producer Corinth requested a changed circumstances review following the initiation and preliminary partial revocation of the antidumping and countervailing (CVD) duty orders on large diameter welded pipe from India.⁷ In its request, Corinth included the public version of the domestic producers' request to initiate the Indian CCRs. In the Indian CCR requests, the ten domestic producers filing the request assert that they account for "substantially all"⁸ of the domestic production of large diameter welded pipe.⁹ In the Initiation Notice for the Greek CCR, we requested comments related to the applicability of the "no interest" statement in the Indian CCR request to the Greek CCR. In response, we received a submission from the domestic producers in which they stated the following: "[the domestic producers] confirm the comments made in the CCR of the antidumping and countervailing duty orders of LDWP from India."¹⁰

We find that: (1) The ten domestic producers' statement of no interest in the AD and CVD orders with respect to certain specific large diameter welded pipe products from India; (2) the domestic producers' statement that they do not currently produce the particular large diameter welded pipe products subject to this CCR request;¹¹ (3) the domestic producers' statement that the investment needed for the industry to produce these products far exceeds the potential benefit of such an investment, given that the U.S. market for deep offshore projects, i.e., the primary market for the large diameter welded pipe product groups at issue is relatively small;¹² and (4) the domestic industry's support for excluding the pipe products at issue from the Greek order, in the event that Commerce determines to treat all three orders equally, all support a preliminary finding to exclude the specified products from the AD order on large diameter welded pipe from Greece.

In its comments on the initiation of this review, Corinth argued that: (1) The domestic industry has expressed a lack of interest in these products; (2) no party objected to the Section 232 exclusion requests for these same products; and (3) Corinth currently produces these varieties of welded pipe.¹³ In response, the domestic producers stated that, while the partial revocation of the Indian orders would convey a benefit to the domestic producers, it did not believe that a similar domestic benefit would be conferred by the exclusion of the same products from Greek order.¹⁴

In its rebuttal comments, Corinth argues that "domestic benefit" is not a consideration in the law, regulation, or practice of CCRs.¹⁵ Corinth argues that the relevant factors are: (1) The domestic industry's statement of no interest in its request for CCRs of Indian welded pipe; (2) the fact that the domestic industry does not produce these varieties of welded pipe; (3) the fact that the domestic industry has no intention of producing these varieties of pipe, because the investment needed outweighs any economic benefits due to the small size of market for these types of welded pipe; and (4) ten domestic producers, who account for at least 85 percent of domestic production of welded pipe, supported the statement of no interest.¹⁶ Further, Corinth pointed out that in the Indian proceedings, the domestic producers inaccurately stated that only India, Brazil, and Germany produce the specified welded pipe in meaningful quantities.¹⁷

Corinth also argues that the domestic producers are incorrect in their assertion that an exclusion for any other country subject to the orders is unnecessary.¹⁸ The domestic producers did not rebut Corinth's comments.

While the direct statement of no interest from the domestic producers is from the Indian welded pipe CCRs, the domestic producers have stated that these varieties of welded pipe are not produced domestically and that there are no plans to undertake the investments needed to produce these varieties of welded pipe.¹⁹ Further, there is no evidence that harm is done to the domestic industry only by imports of Greek welded pipe and not by Indian welded pipe. Accordingly, we find that the domestic producers' statements are equally applicable to the CCRs for both countries, as the lack of domestic production or planned domestic production is true regardless of the foreign country of production.

Therefore, in the absence of an objection by any other interested parties, and based upon the four factual factors listed above, we preliminarily find excluding those products from the Greek and Indian Orders to be equally appropriate. Thus, we preliminarily determine that substantially all of the domestic producers of the like product have no interest in the continued application, in part, of the AD order on the same types of large diameter welded pipe from Greece. Accordingly, we are notifying the public of our intent to revoke, in part, the AD order as it relates to certain specific large diameter welded pipe products. We intend to change the scope of the AD order on large diameter welded pipe from Greece by adding the exclusion language provided in the Attachment to this notice.
