10E8: NIAID has filed the following patent applications for this matter, three U.S. Provisionals (E-253-2011-0-US-01, 61/556,660, filed on 11/07/2011, E-253-2011-1-US-01, 61/672,708, filed on 07/17/2012, and E-253-2011-2-US-01, 61/698,480, filed on 09/07/2012) that were combined into one PCT application (E-253-2011-3-PCT-01, PCT/US2012/063958, filed on 11/07/2012), and entered the national stage, in seven countries: United States (E-253-2011-3-US-05, 14/356,557, filed on 05/06/2014, E-253-2011-4-US-01, 14/450,773, filed on 08/04/2014, E-253-2011-3-US-09, 15/226,744, filed on 08/02/2016, E-253-2011-3-US-13, 15/699,902, filed on 09/08/2017), Europe (E-253-2011-3-EP-03, 12847241.2), China (E-253-2011-3-CN-02, 201280065580.1), India (E-253-2011-3-IN-04, 3678/DELNP/2014), South Africa (E-253-2011-3-ZA-06, 2014/03264), Brazil (E-253-2011-3-BR-07, BR112014010823-4), and Russia (E-253-2011-3-RU-08, 2014118462).

All rights in these inventions have been assigned to the Government of the United States of America.

The prospective exclusive patent commercialization license territory may be worldwide and the field of use may be limited to: (1) Administration to humans of DNA and/or RNA including without limitation modified RNA encoding a protein or proteins, containing all or some of the CDRs of N6 and (2) Administration to humans of DNA and/or RNA including without limitation modified RNA encoding a protein or proteins, containing all or some of the CDRs of 10E8.

The N6 antibody has evolved a unique mode of binding that depends less on a variable area of the HIV envelope known as the V5 region and focuses more on conserved regions, which change relatively little among HIV strains. This allows N6 to tolerate changes in the HIV envelope, including the attachment of sugars in the V5 region, a major mechanism by which HIV develops resistance to other VRC01-class antibodies. N6 was shown in pre-clinical studies to neutralize approximately 98 percent of HIV isolates tested. The studies also demonstrate that N6 neutralizes approximately 80 percent of HIV isolates which were resistant to other antibodies of the same class, and does so very potently. Its breadth and potency makes N6 a highly desirable candidate for development in therapeutic or prophylactic strategies. An abstract for this invention was published in the Federal Register on March 13, 2017.

The other invention, 10E8, has great potential to provide passive protection from infection, as a therapeutic, or as a tool for the development of vaccine immunogens. 10E8 is one of the most potent HIV-neutralizing antibodies isolated thus far and it can potently neutralize up to 98% of genetically diverse HIV-1 strains. 10E8 is specific to the membrane-proximal external region (MPER) of the HIV envelope protein, GP41. An abstract for this invention was published in the Federal Register on April 24th, 2012 and June 24th, 2014.

This notice is made in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 209 and 37 CFR part 404. The prospective exclusive patent commercialization license will be royalty bearing and may be granted unless within fifteen (15) days from the date of this published notice, the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases receives written evidence and argument that establishes that the grant of the license would not be consistent with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 209 and 37 CFR part 404.

Complete applications for a license in the prospective field of use that are timely filed in response to this notice will be treated as objections to the grant of the contemplated exclusive patent commercialization license. In response to this notice, the public may file comments or objections. Comments and objections, other than those in the form of a license application, will not be treated confidentially, and may be made publicly available. License applications submitted in response to this notice will be presumed to contain business confidential information and any release of information from these license applications will be made only as required and upon a request under the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552.

Surekha Vathyam,

Deputy Director, Technology Transfer and Intellectual Property Office, National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases.

Changes in Flood Hazard Determinations

AGENCY: Federal Emergency Management Agency, DHS.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: This notice lists communities where the addition or modification of Base Flood Elevations (BFEs), base flood depths, Special Flood Hazard Area (SFHA) boundaries or zone designations, or the regulatory floodway (hereinafter referred to as flood hazard determinations), as shown on the Flood Insurance Rate Maps (FIRMs), and where applicable, in the supporting Flood Insurance Study (FIS) reports, prepared by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) for each community, is appropriate because of new scientific or technical data. The FIRM, and where applicable, portions of the FIS report, have been revised to reflect these flood hazard determinations through issuance of a Letter of Map Revision (LOMR), in accordance with Federal Regulations. The LOMR will be used by insurance agents and others to calculate appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and the contents of those buildings. For rating purposes, the currently effective community number is shown in the table below and must be used for all new policies and renewals.

DATES: These flood hazard determinations will be finalized on the dates listed in the table below and revise the FIRM panels and FIS report in effect prior to this determination for the listed communities.

From the date of the second publication of notification of these changes in a newspaper of local circulation, any person has 90 days in which to request through the community that the Deputy Associate Administrator for Insurance and
