SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On October 30, 2020 CDC issued an Agency Order establishing a framework for a phased approach to resuming cruise ship passenger operations in U.S. waters (85 FR 70153). The phased approach includes: (1) Establishment of laboratory testing of crew onboard cruise ships in U.S. waters; (2) simulated voyages designed to test a cruise ship operators’ ability to mitigate COVID–19 onboard cruise ships; (3) a certification process; and (4) a return to passenger voyages in a manner that mitigates the risk of COVID–19 introduction, transmission, or spread among passengers and crew onboard ships and ashore to communities.

This includes documenting the approval of U.S. port and local health authorities in developing medical care, housing, and port components (including a vaccination component).

On May 5, 2021 CDC released two documents under Phase 2B and Phase 3 of the Conditional Sailing Framework: Technical Instructions for Simulated Voyages by Cruise Ship Operators under CDC’s Framework for Conditional Sailing Order and COVID–19 Operations Manual for Simulated and Restricted Voyages under the Framework for Conditional Sailing Order.
