SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

FDA is announcing the availability of a guidance for industry entitled "Bispecific Antibody Development Programs." The regulatory pathway for evaluation of monoclonal antibodies is well established, but additional guidance is warranted regarding antibody-based products that target more than one antigen. This guidance addresses challenges that may arise during development of bispecific antibodies and provides recommendations regarding the type of data necessary to support approval.

This guidance finalizes the draft guidance of the same title issued on April 19, 2019 (84 FR 16512). FDA considered comments received on the draft guidance as the guidance was finalized. In addition to minor editorial changes to improve clarity, changes from the draft to the final guidance include:

- Emphasis on discussing unique aspects of the quality, nonclinical, and clinical development programs for bispecific antibodies
- Clarification regarding potential immunogenicity associated with bispecific antibodies
- Clarification of clinical assessments comparing a bispecific antibody and an approved monospecific product(s)

This guidance is being issued consistent with FDA's good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The guidance represents the current thinking of FDA on "Bispecific Antibody Development Programs." It does not establish any rights for any person and is not binding on FDA or the public. You can use an alternative approach if it satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations.

II. Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

While this guidance contains no collection of information, it does refer to previously approved FDA collections of information. Therefore, clearance by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA) (44 U.S.C. 3501-3521) is not required for this guidance. The previously approved collections of information are subject to review by OMB under the PRA. The collections of information in 21 CFR part 312 have been approved under OMB control number 0910-0014.
