

the economic competitiveness of the United States, enhancing partnerships between academia and industry, developing an American STEM workforce that is globally competitive, and supporting female entrepreneurs and individuals from historically underrepresented groups in STEM through mentorship, education, and training.

To that end, NSF built and has continued expanding an I-Corps National Innovation Network (NIN). NIN is a collection of NSF I-Corps Nodes and Sites that together with NSF implement the I-Corps program to grow and sustain the national innovation ecosystem. I-Corps Nodes are typically large, multi-institutional collaborations that deliver NSF national I-Corps Teams training curriculum as well as recruit and train the National I-Corps instructors. Sites are entrepreneurial centers located at individual colleges and universities to catalyze potential I-Corps teams within their local institutions. Together, the Nodes and Sites serve as the backbone of the NIN.

Recently, IIP published a new I-Corps Program Solicitation, NSF 20–529—NSF Innovation Corps Hubs Program (I-Corps™ Hubs), that has placed a strong emphasis on developing and further expanding the NIN. The I-Corps Hubs Program has strengthened the requirements to support a diverse and inclusive community of innovators, in that teams are encouraged to recruit diverse members at all levels. In addition, the I-Corps Hubs Program also provides new pathways for teams to qualify for the participation in the national I-Corps Teams program (at the Nodes). Through this solicitation, NSF seeks to evolve the current structure, in which NSF I-Corps Teams, Nodes, and Sites are funded through separate programs, towards a more integrated operational model capable of sustained operation at the scope and scale required to support the expansion of the NSF I-Corps Program as directed by AICA.

In order to support the agency's congressional reporting requirements in response to the AICA, we are asking NIN grantees to report the following information:

- Expansion of NIN
 - Number of teams trained
 - Number of teams advancing to national I-Corps Teams program (applicable to I-Corps Hubs and I-Corps Sites)
- STEM Workforce
 - Team size (number of members on the team)
 - Team characteristics (participation of females, veterans, and underrepresented minorities)

- Participant status at the time of program
- Subsequent Commercialization Outcomes
 - Company formation
 - Following-on funding
 - SBIR Phase I, II funding
 - Other Federal Funding
 - Private Funding (including competition, and prize awards)
 - Revenues (sales, licensing fees, other operational cash flows)

The reporting of this information is in addition to the agency's annual report requirement for the grantees. Not only will the information help the agency report on NIN activities to Congress, they also provide managing Program Directors a means to monitor the operational states of these I-Corps Sites, Nodes, and Hubs, and ensure that their awards are in good standing. These data will also allow NSF to assess these awardees in terms of intellectual, broader, and commercial impacts that are core to our merit review criteria. Finally, in compliance with the Evidence Act of 2019, information collected will be used in satisfying congressional requests, responding to queries from the public, NSF's external merit reviewers who serve as advisors, and NSF's Office of the Inspector General, and supporting the agency's policymaking and internal evaluation and assessment needs.

Use of the Information: The information collected is primarily for the agency's AICA Reporting requirements, and other congressional requests.

Respondents: I-Corps Sites, Nodes, and Hubs Grantees.

Estimated number of respondents: 2,000.

Average burden per reporting: 15 minutes per respondent—10 minutes for the record of participation and five minutes for the follow-up survey for an estimate of 250 hours per year.

Frequency: Twice a year—once for the record of participation and once for the follow-up survey.

Comments: Comments are invited on: (a) Whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Agency, including whether the information shall have practical utility; (b) the accuracy of the Agency's estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information; (c) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology; and (d) ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology.
