1. Have you applied for or accessed procurement and contracting opportunities with DOI in the past? If so, please describe what you liked and did not like about the process. If not, why not? What would have made it easier for you to apply or access procurement and contracting opportunities with DOI?

2. What are the barriers to applying for procurement and contracting opportunities with DOI? How can DOI remove or reduce barriers (e.g., update policies, practices, or programs) that underserved communities and individuals face when they participate or attempt to participate in agency procurement and contracting opportunities?

3. How can DOI establish and maintain connections to a wider and more diverse set of stakeholders representing underserved communities? How can DOI better share information with underserved stakeholders about procurement and contracting opportunities? What are the best ways to notify and engage underserved stakeholders about new opportunities?

4. What have been your experience(s) interacting with DOI when trying to access procurement and contracting opportunities using the following tools/mechanisms:

- One-on-one interactions with DOI staff, offices, programs, and/or leadership in person, by email or phone
- DOI websites, including Bureau web pages and the Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization's web page
- DOI-hosted industry days and/or matching-making event(s)
- DOI Forecast of Contracting Opportunities

Consider how you became aware of the tool/mechanism, if the tool/mechanism was helpful, if you were able to obtain useful and/or relevant information, what could be improved upon, if you would use or have used the tool/mechanism again, and other tools/mechanisms you have utilized or would like to have available to utilize to support your efforts.

5. Are there sources of data and metrics that DOI should use to evaluate the effects of DOI procurement and contracting policies or regulations on underserved communities? If so, please identify or describe them.

Comments received in response to this notice and from listening sessions will be evaluated and, as appropriate, incorporated into DOI's efforts to improve support to underserved communities through procurement and contracting opportunities.
