

modern tools and methods for public notice and outreach, as discussed in this notice, to reflect substantial changes in technology, the media, and the way different segments of the public access information.

According to the final National Environmental Justice Advisory Council (NEJAC), EJ in Permitting Subgroup Report,⁵⁵ the publication in the legal section of a regional print newspaper is antiquated, ineffective, and is not ideal for providing notice to low-income and minority communities. Regarding public participation, the report recommends the following to the EPA: “To ensure meaningful public participation, the public notice and outreach process must include direct communication in appropriate languages through telephone calls and mailings to EJ and tribal communities, press releases, radio announcements, electronic and regular mail, website postings and the posting of signs.” EPA finds today’s notice consistent with the report’s recommendations in that EPA intends to provide for the full range of flexibility allowed by RCRA and EPA regulations to satisfy the public notice requirements.

In the 2016 PSD rulemaking described above, commenters noted that modernizing notification processes to provide for electronic notice would be more efficient and convenient for communicating permitting-related information to the public, including communities with environmental justice concerns. Several commenters supported the EPA’s conclusion that because there have been substantial changes in technology, the media, and the way the public access media, electronic notifications are more effective means of public notification than newspaper publication. Commenters note that this conclusion applied not only to the public in general, but also for communities with environmental justice concerns. One commenter noted that overburdened communities today obtain and share more information through the internet than through newspaper circulation. The comments also confirmed that some districts have already been encouraged to provide electronic notice by EJ advocates, noting that such notices improve the level of available information and customer service offered to the public, including marginalized communities, by allowing the district to immediately make available permitting action notices in languages other than English. To that point, the commenter explained that public outreach initiatives cannot be nearly as effective with just traditional newspaper notification. The EPA agreed with the commenters and found that electronic notice and electronic access have been an effective and convenient way to communicate permitting-related information to the public.⁵⁶

As marginalized communities impacted by environmental justice concerns and other targeted audiences shift away from traditional news and information vehicles and increase their use of the web-based resources for information, the option for electronic noticing public notices could improve communication and increase the public’s participation in the RCRA permit process for some of these communities.

BILLING CODE P

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[FR ID: 62319]

Privacy Act of 1974; System of Records

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Notice of a modified system of records.

SUMMARY: The Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission or Agency) is modifying a system of records, FCC/WCB–3, Emergency Broadband Benefit Program, subject to the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended. This action is necessary to meet the requirements of the Privacy Act to publish in the Federal Register notice of the existence and character of records maintained by the agency. The Emergency Broadband Benefit Program (“Emergency Broadband”) provides discounts for broadband internet access service (“BIAS”) to qualifying households. Under the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act, signed into law on November 15, 2021, the Emergency Broadband program will become the Affordable Connectivity Program (“ACP”) on December 31, 2021. A household may qualify for ACP if an individual in the household has applied for and has been approved to receive benefits under the free and reduced price lunch program, receives assistance through the special supplemental nutritional program for women, infants, and children established by section 17 of the Child Nutrition Act of 1996 (“WIC”), receives a Pell Grant, qualifies for the Lifeline program, meets certain income requirements, or qualifies for a low-income program offered by internet service providers. The ACP will be administered by the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) under the direction of the Commission and, by delegation, of the Commission's Wireline Competition Bureau (WCB). This system of records contains information about individual ACP participants, providers' claims and certifying officers, and providers' enrollment representatives.

DATES: Written comments are due on or before January 18, 2022. This action takes effect on December 16, 2021, except for any new or significantly modified routine uses, which will take effect on January 18, 2022.

ADDRESSES: Send comments to Brendan McTaggart, Federal Communications Commission (FCC), 45 L Street NE, Washington, DC 20554, or to privacy@fcc.gov.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Brendan McTaggart, (202) 418-1738, or privacy@fcc.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In December 2020, Congress passed and the President signed the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021 authorizing Emergency Broadband Service During Emergency Period Related to COVID-19, establishing the Emergency Broadband Benefit Program to temporarily provide eligible households a discount on the cost of internet service and a subsidy for low-cost devices such as computers and tablets. The Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) was designated to administer this Program. In November 2021, Congress passed and the President signed the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act, modifying and extending the Emergency Broadband Benefit Program and changing its name to the Affordable Connectivity Program (ACP). Households can qualify for the benefit if an individual in the household: Has applied for and has been approved to receive benefits under the free and reduced price lunch program, receives a Pell Grant, receives assistance under WIC (42 U.S.C. 1786), qualifies for the Lifeline program, meets certain income requirements, or qualifies for a low-income program offered by internet service providers. USAC will administer this program on behalf of the Commission.

The substantive changes and modifications to the previously published version of the FCC/WCB-3 system of records include:

(a) Updating the name of the system of records to reflect the change in the title of the program;

(b) Updating the authorities to include the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act that modifies the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021;

(c) Updating the purpose for maintaining this system of records to include using the information to perform recertification verifications and provide program notifications;

(e) Updating the name of the program throughout the system of records notice; and,

(f) Updating the Summary to include WIC participant households as households qualifying for ACP benefits.

(g) Updating Routine Use 1 to remove the FCC as already covered by the Privacy Act under 5 U.S.C. 552a(b)(1).

(h) Consolidating Routine Uses 2, 3, and 4, and deleting Routine Uses 3 and 4.

(i) Consolidating Routine Uses 5 and 7, and deleting Routine Use 7.

(j) Modifying Routine Use 8 to avoid overlap with Routine Use 5.

(k) Modifying Routine Use 15 and creating a new Routine Use 16 to distinguish disclosures to the U.S. Department of Justice from disclosures to a court or other adjudicative body.

(l) Consolidating Routine Use 18 into Routine Uses 5 and 10, and deleting Routine Use 18.

ADMINISTRATIVE, TECHNICAL, AND PHYSICAL SAFEGUARDS:

The electronic records, data, and files are maintained in the FCC and the USAC computer network databases, which are protected by the FCC's and USAC's privacy safeguards, a comprehensive and dynamic set of IT safety and security protocols and features that are designed to meet all Federal IT privacy standards, including those required by the National Institute of Standard and Technology (NIST) and the Federal Information Security Management System (FISMA). In addition, access to the electronic files is restricted to authorized USAC and contractors' supervisors and staff and to the FCC's supervisors and staff in WCB and to the IT contractors who maintain these computer databases. Other FCC employees and contractors may be granted access only on a "need-to-know" basis. In addition, data in the network servers for both USAC and its contractors will be routinely backed-up. The servers will be stored in secured environments to protect the data.

The paper documents and files are maintained in file cabinets in USAC and the contractors' office suites. The file cabinets are locked when not in use and at the end of the business day. Access to these files is restricted to authorized USAC and its contractors' staffs.
