

- inform the delivery of targeted assistance and workflows related to program and grantee processes,
- inform the development and refinement of recordkeeping and communication systems,
- plan for provision of programmatic or evidence-capacity-related training or technical assistance,
- obtain grantee or stakeholder input on the development or refinement of program logic models, evaluations, and performance measures, and
- test activities to strengthen programs in preparation for summative evaluations.

The SBA envisions using a variety of techniques including but not limited to semi-structured small group discussions or focus groups, questionnaires and surveys, interviews (e.g., in-person, video, and telephone), and cognitive interviews (e.g., in-person, video and audio collections) to reach these goals. Participation in formative data collections is strictly voluntary, and personal identifiable information is not collected.

Following standard OMB requirements, the SBA will submit a change request for each individual data collection activity under this generic clearance. Each request will include the individual instrument(s), a justification, and any supplementary documents specific to the unique information collection. OMB should review within 10 days of receiving each change request.

The information collected in this effort will not be the primary subject of any published SBA reports. However, information may be made public through methodological appendices or footnotes, reports on instrument development, instrument user guides, descriptions of respondent behavior, and other publications or presentations describing findings of methodological interest. When necessary, results will be labeled as formative or exploratory. The aggregated results of this work may be prepared for presentation at professional meetings or disseminated in evaluation reports, research papers, and professional journals.

Respondents: The populations to be studied include SBA grantees, program and potential program providers and participants, researchers, practitioners, and other stakeholder groups involved in SBA programs, experts in fields pertaining to SBA evaluation and research, or others involved in conducting SBA evaluation, research, or evidence-building projects.
