SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title of Collection: Partnership with EVERFI to Study High School Students’ Estimation of College Costs.

OMB Control Number: 3170-0048.

Type of Review: Request for approval of a generic information collection under an existing Generic Information Collection Plan.

Affected Public: Individuals.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 10,000.

Estimated Total Annual Burden

Hours: 1,667.

Abstract: The Bureau plans to engage in research under its authority to conduct research on “consumer awareness and understanding of costs, risks, and benefits of consumer financial products and service.” To this end, the Bureau plans to partner with EVERFI, Inc. (a provider of financial education services) to distribute a survey about student loans and the costs of attending college through their proprietary software. Previous research has indicated that students tend to err in estimating the costs of attending college and the costs of borrowing student loans that are used to attend college. This survey will ask questions to measure high school students’ expectations about college costs and the costs of borrowing student loans. The survey will then include a randomized experiment where some students are shown information about the average net costs of college, the cost of borrowing student loans, and the availability of certain income-driven repayment programs. Students will answer a battery of questions about their anticipated college attendance, major choice, and likelihood of borrowing student loans. The randomized experiment will measure the effect of the information treatments on the students’ reported postsecondary plans. Doing so will contribute to our understanding of providing certain pieces of information that may affect students’ postsecondary education plans.

The survey will involve U.S. high school students as respondents. The CFPB will distribute the survey as an addendum to EVERFI, Inc.’s main survey of students that enroll in EVERFI’s Financing Higher Education, course. The CFPB survey will contain mostly questions about the respondents’ estimates of college costs, the cost of borrowing student loans, and the questions about their post-high school plans discussed above. The CFPB will also receive the responses to EVERFI’s main survey which includes demographic questions about the students as well as questions measuring their college enrollment intentions, preparations, and perceptions.
