(NCHHSTP), Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

Background and Brief Description

The purpose of this data collection is to determine the training and technical assistance (TA) needs of health departments and community-based organizations (CBO) funded by CDC to conduct HIV prevention and surveillance activities. Data will be gathered by the CDC through two structured, survey-based assessments hosted on our online training and technical assistance request system. CDC is requesting a three-year approval in order to accommodate the multiple Notifications of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) that inform the U.S. HIV response system at the local and state level.

CDC is requests OMB approval for an estimated 66 annual burden hours. There are no other costs to respondents other than their time.
