DATES: Lineal descendants or representatives of any Indian Tribe or Native Hawaiian organization not identified in this notice that wish to claim these cultural items should submit a written request with information in support of the claim to the FBI at the address in this notice by September 12, 2022.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Notice is here given in accordance with the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act (NAGPRA), 25 U.S.C. 3005, of the intent to repatriate cultural items under the control of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, DC, that meet the definition of sacred objects under 25 U.S.C. 3001.

This notice is published as part of the National Park Service's administrative responsibilities under NAGPRA, 25 U.S.C. 3003(d)(3). The determinations in this notice are the sole responsibility of the museum, institution, or Federal agency that has control of the Native American cultural items. The National Park Service is not responsible for the determinations in this notice.

History and Description of the Cultural Items

At an unknown date, three cultural items were acquired and transported to the east coast, where they remained part of a private collection of Native American antiquities, art, and cultural heritage. In the spring of 2018, these cultural items were seized by the FBI as part of a criminal investigation. The three cultural items seized in 2018 were identified by the collector as "masks." Following consultation, these cultural items were determined to be culturally affiliated with the Hopi Tribe of Arizona and were identified as sacred objects.

The Hopi Tribe of Arizona resides in northeastern Arizona. Its reservation occupies portions of Coconino and Navajo Counties, encompasses more than 1.5 million acres, and contains 12 villages on First Mesa, Second Mesa, and Third Mesa. The Hopi Sinom and their ancestors, the Hisat Sinom, have ancient ties to their Hopi Tutskwa (Aboriginal Hopi Lands), which they have occupied continuously for over 2,000 years. According to Hopi oral tradition, since time immemorial, the Hopi people have lived in Hopi Tutskwa, maintaining their cultural traditions and their "sacred covenant with Maasaw, the ancient caretaker of the earth, to live as peaceful and humble farmers respectful of the land and its resources." This oral traditional information is supported by the archeological record, which places the Hopi in this region for thousands of years. Old Orabi (Third Mesa), for example, is the oldest settlement with standing ruins. It is identified as "one of the oldest continuously inhabited settlements on the North American Continent dating back to A.D. 1100."

Determinations Made by the Federal Bureau of Investigation

Officials of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have determined that:

- Pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001(3)(C), the three cultural items described above are specific ceremonial objects needed by traditional Native American religious leaders for the practice of traditional Native American religions by their present-day adherents.
- Pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001(2), there is a relationship of shared group identity that can be reasonably traced between the sacred objects and the Hopi Tribe of Arizona.

Additional Requestors and Disposition

Lineal descendants or representatives of any Indian Tribe or Native Hawaiian organization not identified in this notice that wish to claim these cultural items should submit a written request with information in support of the claim to Federal Bureau of Investigation, FBI Headquarters, Attn: Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) Randolph J. Deaton IV, Art Theft Program, 935 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20535, telephone (202) 324-5525, email artifacts@ic.fbi.gov, by September 12, 2022. After that date, if no additional claimants have come forward, transfer of control of the sacred objects to the Hopi Tribe of Arizona may proceed.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is responsible for notifying the Hopi Tribe of Arizona that this notice has been published.

This notice is published as part of the National Park Service's administrative responsibilities under NAGPRA, 25 U.S.C. 3003(d)(3). The determinations in this notice are the sole responsibility of the museum, institution, or Federal agency that has control of the Native American human remains. Consultation

A detailed assessment of the human remains was made by the Library Company of Philadelphia professional staff in consultation with representatives of the Forest County Potawatomi Community, Wisconsin.

History and Description of the Remains

In the 1880s and 1890s, human remains representing, at minimum, one individual most likely were removed by Dr. George Julius Engelmann from the banks of Geneva Lake in Walworth County, WI. Dr. Engelmann (1847-1903) gave these remains to Dr. Silas Weir Mitchell (1829-1914) of Philadelphia. Mitchell's son, Langdon Mitchell (1862-1935), inherited the human remains. Following his death, the human remains went to Langdon's wife, Marian Lea Mitchell (1861-1944) who, in 1937, gave them to the Library Company of Philadelphia. No known individuals were identified. No associated funerary objects are present.

These human remains have been determined to be Native American based on the history of Dr. George Julius Engelmann's excavation of specific Native American burial sites; documentation from the College of Physicians of Philadelphia concerning their collection of human remains excavated by Engelmann and donated by Dr. Silas Weir Mitchell; and the available documentation. The Forest County Potawatomi Community, Wisconsin are the present-day descendants of the earlier group at the Walworth County, WI site.

Determinations Made by the Library Company of Philadelphia

Officials of the Library Company of Philadelphia have determined that:

- Pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001(9), the human remains described in this notice represent the physical remains of one individual of Native American ancestry.
- Pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001(2), there is a relationship of shared group identity that can be reasonably traced between the Native American human remains and the Forest County Potawatomi Community, Wisconsin.

Additional Requestors and Disposition

Lineal descendants or representatives of any Indian Tribe or Native Hawaiian organization not identified in this notice that wish to request transfer of control of these human remains should submit a written request with information in support of the request to Linda Kimiko August, Library Company of Philadelphia, 1314 Locust Street, Philadelphia, PA 19107, telephone (215) 546-3181, email laugust@librarycompany.org, by September 12, 2022. After that date, if no additional requestors have come forward, transfer of control of the human remains to the Forest County Potawatomi Community, Wisconsin may proceed.

The Library Company of Philadelphia is responsible for notifying the Forest County Potawatomi Community, Wisconsin that this notice has been published.
