

Rules 13n-4(b)(9), (b)(10) and (d) is 11,405 hours and $120,000, calculated as follows:

Commission staff estimates a total of 50 regulators or other authorities will enter into confidentiality arrangements with the Commission to obtain access to security-based swap data pursuant to these provisions. On average, each of those recipients of data is expected to expend 500 hours in connection with negotiating these MOUs or other arrangements, for a one-time aggregate burden of 25,000 hours, with no associated ongoing burdens. This equates to 8,333 hours per year when annualized over three years.

Commission staff estimates that a total of 41 regulators or other authorities (that otherwise are not identified by statute or the rules as being eligible for access) may request that the Commission determine that they be able to access such security-based swap data. On average, each of those entities is expected to expend 40 hours in connection with such requests, for a one-time aggregate burden of 1,640 hours, with no associated ongoing burdens. This equates to 547 hours per year when annualized over three years.

Commission staff also estimates that a total of three SDRs may be expected to incur systems-related costs associated with setting up access to security-based swap data for regulators and other authorities. On average, each of those entities is expected to expend 1,300 hours in connection with providing such connectivity (based on each SDR incurring 26 hours per recipient, over 50 recipients), for a one-time aggregate burden of 3,900 hours, with no associated ongoing burdens associated with this requirement. This equates to 1,300 hours when annualized over three years.

In addition, Commission staff estimates that a total of three SDRs may incur costs associated with notifying the Commission when the SDR receives the first request for security-based swap data from a particular entity. On average, each of those SDRs is expected to expend 25 hours in connection with this notice requirement (based on each SDR providing 50 notices, at half-hour per notice), for a one-time aggregate burden of 75 hours, with no associated ongoing burdens. This equates to 25 hours per year when annualized over three years.

Commission staff estimates that a total of 10 SDRs may incur costs associated with the requirement that they maintain records of all information related to initial and subsequent requests for data access. On average, compliance with this provision is expected to require 360 hours initially and 280 hours annually per SDR, for a total burden of 1,080 hours initially and 840 hours annually across three SDRs. This equates to 1,200 hours per year when annualized over three years. Commission staff further estimates that those SDRs each will require $40,000 annually in connection with that requirement, for a total cost of $120,000 annually across ten SDRs.

Abstract of Proposed Collection

The DS-160 and DS-156 collect biographical and other information from individuals seeking a nonimmigrant visa or individuals seeking a boarding foil for purposes of traveling to the United States to seek parole from the Department of Homeland Security. The consular officer uses the information collected to elicit information necessary to determine an applicant's eligibility for a nonimmigrant visa. The consular officer uses the information collected on the form to screen individuals seeking a boarding foil for purposes of obtaining parole pursuant to an agreement between the Department of State and the Department of Homeland Security. Most respondents use the DS-160; however, posts may authorize an individual to use the paper-based DS-156 in limited circumstances as outlined below.

Methodology

Respondents submit the DS-160 electronically over an encrypted connection to the Department via the internet. The respondent will be instructed to print the confirmation page containing bar code record locators, which the consular officer will use to locate the form during processing.

The DS-156 is the paper-based version of the DS-160. In order to obtain a copy of the DS-156, an individual must contact the Embassy or consulate at which they are applying and request a copy. A consular officer may allow an individual to submit the DS-156 in the following limited circumstances when the DS-160 cannot be accessed and the:

- Respondent has an urgent medical or humanitarian travel need, and the consular officer has received explicit permission from the Visa Office to accept form DS-156;
- Respondent is a student or exchange visitor who must leave immediately in order to arrive on time for his/her course and the consular officer has explicit permission from the Visa Office to accept form DS-156;
- Respondent is a diplomatic or official traveler with urgent government business and form DS-160 has been unavailable for more than four hours; or
- Form DS-160 has been unavailable for more than three days and the officer receives explicit permission from the Visa Office.

Julie M. Stuft,

Deputy Assistant Secretary, Bureau of Consular Affairs, Department of State.
