Current Actions: This Notice proposes the clearance of the Guidelines for IMLS Grants to States Five-Year Evaluation. The Grants to States program is the largest source of Federal funding support for library services in the U.S. Using a population-based formula, more than $160 million is distributed among the State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) every year. SLAAs are official agencies charged by the Library Services and Technology Act (20 U.S.C. 9121 and 20 U.S.C. 9141) with the extension and development of library services, and they are located in each of the 50 States of the United States, the District of Columbia, the five Territories of Guam, American Samoa, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, and the U.S. Virgin Islands, and the three Freely Associated States of Federated States of Micronesia, Republic of Palau, and the Republic of the Marshall Islands.

Each SLAA is required, under 20 U.S.C. 9101 et seq. (in particular 20 U.S.C. 9134), to submit a plan that details library services goals for a five-year period, along with associated certifications. IMLS authorizing legislation (20 U.S.C. 9134) directs SLAAs to "independently evaluate, and report to the Director regarding, the activities assisted under this subchapter, prior to the end of the Five-Year Plan." This evaluation provides SLAAs an opportunity to measure progress in meeting the goals set in their approved Five-Year Plans with a framework to synthesize information across all state reports in telling a national story. This action is to renew clearance of the Guidelines for IMLS Grants to States Five-Year Evaluation for the next three years. The 60-day Notice was published in the Federal Register on June 10, 2022 (87 FR 35575).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Overview: Section 9906(a)(3)(A) of the William M. (Mac) Thornberry National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2021 (Public Law 116-283) (included in Title XCIX, "Creating Helpful Incentives to Produce Semiconductors (CHIPS) for America"), established the Subcommittee on Microelectronics Research (SML) and charged the Subcommittee with the development of a national strategy on microelectronics research, development, manufacturing, and supply chain security. The National Strategy on Microelectronics Research ("National Strategy") is being developed to address approaches to prioritize research and development (R&D) to advance microelectronics, to grow the workforce, to leverage and connect the broader R&D infrastructure, including the Federal laboratories, enhance public-private partnerships and international engagement, and develop activities that address future challenges to the innovation, competitiveness, and supply chain security of the United States in the field of microelectronics. The SML is seeking input from stakeholders from across the entire microelectronics ecosystem, including industry, academia, and non-profits, to guide this effort.

The final National Strategy will seek to ensure that advances in microelectronics R&D and their applications to agency missions and the broader national interest continue unabated in this critical field. The strategy will provide guidance for agency leaders, program managers, and the research community regarding planning and implementation of microelectronics R&D investments and activities and ensure they are synergistic with the broader CHIPS legislation and activities.

The Draft National Strategy identifies three main goals with underlining strategic objectives:

- Goal 1. Fuel Discoveries for Future Generations of Microelectronics
- Goal 2. Expand, Train, and Support the Workforce
- Goal 3. Facilitate the Rapid Transition of R&D to U.S. Industry

OSTP seeks comment from the public on the Draft National Strategy with a focus on the following questions:

1. Does the Draft National Strategy capture the key R&D areas that will support future generations of microelectronics? If not, what additional areas of R&D focus are required?
2. What additional approaches should be considered to develop and expand the microelectronics workforce at all levels, including advanced degrees?

3. Are there additional mechanisms that should be considered to ensure rapid transition of R&D to industry?

4. Do you have any additional suggestions on how the final National Strategy can help ensure the success of the broader CHIPS efforts and ensure continued U.S. leadership in this important area?

The Draft National Strategy is not a commitment to any strategy, policy, funding, or plan and it has not been approved for final publication by the NSTC or any part of the United States Government. The contents of this draft document and the strategy may change in its entirety or in part prior to final publication based on the feedback that we receive.
