⁶ As defined in § 173.50 an explosive means any substance or article, including a device, which is designed to function by explosion (i.e., an extremely rapid release of gas and heat) or which, by chemical reaction within itself, is able to function in a similar manner even if not designed to function by explosion, unless the substance or article is otherwise classed under the provisions of the HMR. The term includes a pyrotechnic substance or article, unless the substance or article is otherwise classed under the provisions of the HMR.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

OMB Control Number: 2105–0551.

Title: Reporting Requirements for Disability-Related Complaints.

Type of Request: Reinstatement of information collections.

Background: The Department requires U.S. and foreign air carriers operating to, from and within the United States that conduct passenger-carrying service with at least one aircraft with a designed seating capacity of more than 60 passengers (large aircraft) to record complaints that they receive alleging inadequate accessibility or discrimination on the basis of disability. The carriers must also categorize these complaints according to the type of disability and nature of complaint, prepare a summary report annually of the complaints received during the preceding calendar year, submit the report to the Department’s Office of Aviation Consumer Protection, and retain copies of correspondence and records of action taken on the reported complaints for three years. Carriers are also required to submit their annual report via the World Wide Web except if the carrier can demonstrate an undue burden by doing so and receives permission from the Department to submit it in an alternative manner. The first required report of disability-related complaints was due to the Department on January 31, 2005, and covered disability-related complaints received by carriers during calendar year 2004. Carriers have since submitted subsequent reports to the Department by the last Monday in January for the prior calendar year.

The Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA) and its implementing regulations, 5 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) part 1320, require Federal agencies to issue two notices seeking public comment on information collection activities before OMB may approve paperwork packages. On May 10, 2022, DOT published a 60-day notice in the Federal Register soliciting comment on the ICRs for which the agency seeks OMB approval. See 87 FR 28101. DOT received two comments after issuing this notice. One of the comments, filed by a member of the public, addressed modifications of the DOT air service complaint form which is covered under a different OMB control number than is addressed by this notice. The other comment, filed by Paralyzed Veterans of America (PVA), stated that the collection of information on disability-related complaints is necessary for the proper performance of DOT because DOT is responsible for enforcing the requirements of the Air Carrier Access Act. PVA noted that the collection of the information indicates which airlines receive the most complaints and what types of discrimination are occurring during air travel. PVA stated that without the collection and reporting of the complaints, airlines may not be held responsible for improper procedures, discrimination, and unlawful treatment of individuals with disabilities. In addition, PVA stated that the information collected by DOT is too generalized and ambiguous to provide passengers with disabilities information about which airlines provide the best experience for passengers with disabilities and appropriately to determine the issues that such passengers experience. PVA also stated that the current burden on airlines to collect and categorize the complaints can be alleviated by adding more descriptive options in their complaint forms for passengers to categorize the complaint. For example, PVA stated that airlines could use more specific check boxes or indicators for passengers to select and categorize the complaint. In addition, PVA stated that many online complaint forms are difficult for passengers to find, resulting in passengers calling the airline to file their complaint, and more burden on the airline.

DOT will consider the information provided by PVA for the purposes of informing future potential rulemaking activities that would be necessary to modify the requirements that apply to the airlines' collection and submission of disability-related complaint information under 14 CFR part 382. Therefore, DOT has concluded that it will not make any changes to the information collections based on the comments before submitting the ICR to OMB for review. However, DOT encourages reporting carriers to consider PVA's comments on methods to reduce burdens associated with categorizing complaints and to consider adopting burden reducing measures that are consistent with the regulatory requirements. The Department announces that these information collection activities have been re-evaluated and certified under 5 CFR 1320.5(a) and is forwarding to OMB for review and approval pursuant to 5 CFR 1320.12(c).

Before OMB decides whether to approve these proposed collections of information, it must provide 30 days for public comment. 44 U.S.C. 3507(b); 5 CFR 1320.12(d). Federal law requires OMB to approve or disapprove paperwork packages between 30 and 60 days after the 30-day notice is published. 44 U.S.C. 3507(b)-(c); 5 CFR 1320.12(d); see also 60 FR 44,983 (Aug. 29, 1995). Therefore, respondents should submit their respective comments to OMB within 30 days of publication to best ensure their full consideration. 5 CFR 1320.12(c); see also 60 FR 44,983 (Aug. 29, 1995).

Estimated Annual Burden on Respondents: 30 minutes a year per each respondent.

Estimated Total Annual Burden: 88 hours (5,280 minutes) for all respondents (estimate annual burden [30 minutes] multiplied by the total number of respondents (176)).

Estimated Annual Burden on Respondents: 0–811 hours (0–48,635 minutes) for each respondent (the estimated time it will take for each respondent to retain or save the correspondences and records of action taken on disability-related complaints (5 minutes) multiplied by the lowest number of complaints and the average of the highest number of complaints received per respondent during CYs 2018, 2019, and 2021 (0–9,727)).

Estimated Total Annual Burden: 2,618 hours (157,085 minutes) for all respondents (time to retain or save the correspondences and records of action
