On January 17, 2023, DOE received a joint request from the Alliance to Save

Federal Register Vol. 88, No. 38 Monday, February 27, 2023

Energy, Business Council for Sustainable Energy, and the U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC), requesting a 30-day extension of the public comment period to allow more time to review the SNOPR and supportive material.¹ On January 27, 2023, DOE also received joint requests from the American Gas Association, American Public Gas Association, National Propane Gas Association, Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Contractors (National Association), and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, requesting a 30-day extension to the public comment period.

DOE has reviewed these requests and determined that reopening the public comment period is warranted to allow interested parties additional time to submit comments for DOE's consideration. Accordingly, DOE is reopening the comment period deadline to March 23, 2023. DOE believes this additional 30 days is sufficient.
