SUMMARY: Pursuant to the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, notice is given that the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (Board) proposes to establish a new system of records, entitled BGFRS–45, “FRB—Debt Collection Records.” BGFRS–45 includes records concerning debts owed to the Board or to the United States (including but not limited to restitution collectible by the United States) that arise out of the Board’s operations or other activities, and records concerning the Board’s efforts to collect these debts. The Board will create, collect, and maintain these records to support its debt collection efforts, and to facilitate compliance with statutory and regulatory requirements.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before July 21, 2023. This new system of records will become effective July 21, 2023, without further notice, unless comments dictate otherwise.

The Office of Management and Budget (OMB), which has oversight responsibility under the Privacy Act, requires a 30-day period prior to publication in the Federal Register in which to review the system and to provide any comments to the agency. The public is then given a 30-day period in which to comment, in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(4) and (11).

ADDRESSES: You may submit comments, identified by BGFRS–45 “FRB—Debt Collection Records,” by any of the following methods:

- Agency Website: <https://www.federalreserve.gov>. Follow the instructions for submitting comments at <https://www.federalreserve.gov/apps/foia/proposedregs.aspx>.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In 2019, the Board adopted regulations providing for the collection of debts owing to the United States arising out of the Board’s operations or its enforcement and other regulatory activities. See 84 FR 15502 (April 16, 2019) and codified at 12 CFR part 267, “Procedures for Debt Collection.” Prior to the adoption of these regulations, the Board’s debt collection processes focused on salary offset from current Board employees and were addressed via the Board’s payroll processes. Building upon this adoption of new procedures and after reviewing the Board’s existing debt collection processes, the Board has determined to expand its collection processes beyond current employees, to include persons indebted either to the Board or the United States (including but not limited to restitution or disgorgement debts collectible by the United States) in connection with the Board's operations or activities. The Board is therefore proposing to establish a new system of records for the maintenance and operation of the Board's expanded debt collection activities.
