BILLING CODE 4163-18-P

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Administration for Children and Families

Submission for OMB Review; Income Withholding for Support Order (OMB No.: 0970-0154)

AGENCY: Office of Child Support Services, Administration for Children and Families, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

ACTION: Request for public comments.

SUMMARY: The Office of Child Support Services (OCSS) (formerly the Office of Child Support Enforcement (OCSE), Administration for Children and Families (ACF), is requesting the federal Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to extend approval of the Income Withholding for Support Order (IWO), with minor changes, for an additional three years. The current OMB approval expires September 30, 2023.

DATES: Comments due within 30 days of publication. OMB must make a decision about the collection of information between 30 and 60 days after publication of this document in the Federal Register. Therefore, a comment is best assured of having its full effect if OMB receives it within 30 days of publication.

ADDRESSES: Written comments and recommendations for the proposed information collection should be sent within 30 days of publication of this notice to www.reginfo.gov/public/do/PRAMain. Find this particular information collection by selecting “Currently under 30-day Review—Open for Public Comments” or by using the search function. You can also obtain copies of the proposed collection of information by emailing infocollection@acf.hhs.gov. Identify all emailed requests by the title of the information collection.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Description: The IWO is the required, standard form used to order, and notify, employers and income providers to withhold child support payments from an obligor’s income. It is also used to notify employers and other income providers where to remit the payments, as well as other information needed to correctly withhold payments so that children and families receive the support to which they are entitled. On June 5, 2023, the Administration for Children and Families published a notice in the Federal Register (see 88 FR 36587) to announce a new official name for the former Office of Child Support Enforcement. As a result, all of the IWO instruments underwent revisions to change the “Office of Child Support Enforcement (OCSE)” to “Office of Child Support Services (OCSS).” The IWO form instructions underwent minor edits to clarify the language and OCSS augmented the instructions to include a sample form to improve the respondent’s ability to properly complete the IWO Form. The burden estimates changed to reflect current estimates for the annual number of respondents and responses.

Respondents: Courts, private attorneys, custodial parties, or their representatives, employers, and other entities that provide income to noncustodial parents

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

FDA is announcing the availability of a revised draft guidance for industry entitled "Inborn Errors of Metabolism That Use Dietary Management: Considerations for Optimizing and Standardizing Diet in Clinical Trials for Drug Product Development." This draft guidance describes FDA's current recommendations for optimizing and standardizing dietary management in clinical trials for the development of drug products intended to treat IEM when dietary management is a key component of patients' metabolic control. Optimizing and standardizing dietary management in these patients before they enter into clinical trials and during clinical trials is essential to providing an accurate evaluation of the efficacy of new drug products.

This draft guidance revises the draft guidance of the same name issued on July 24, 2018 (83 FR 35006). FDA considered comments received on the draft guidance and is reissuing the guidance in draft form. Revisions from the previous draft include: (1) clarification that drug products, including both small molecules and biological products, should be studied in conjunction with dietary management for conditions where dietary management is the current standard of clinical care; (2) clarification that metabolic control may be evaluated by biochemical analytes and clinical assessment as substantiated by current clinical standards of care; (3) clarification that differences in baseline dietary management standards among patients from different countries should be considered and clearly stated in the protocol; and (4) clarification that the most informative design is a randomized, double-blind clinical trial that includes a concurrent control group (approved drug or placebo).

This draft guidance is being issued consistent with FDA's good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The draft guidance, when finalized, will represent the current thinking of FDA on "Inborn Errors of Metabolism That Use Dietary Management: Considerations for Optimizing and Standardizing Diet in Clinical Trials for Drug Product Development." It does not establish any rights for any person and is not binding on FDA or the public. You can use an alternative approach if it satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations.

II. Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

While this guidance contains no collection of information, it does refer to previously approved FDA collections of information. Therefore, clearance by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA) (44 U.S.C. 3501–3521) is not required for this guidance. The previously approved collections of information are subject to review by OMB under the PRA. The collections of information in 21 CFR part 312 have been approved under OMB Control No. 0910–0014.

III. Electronic Access

Persons with access to the internet may obtain the guidance at either <https://www.fda.gov/drugs/guidance-compliance-regulatory-information/guidances-drugs>, <https://www.fda.gov/vaccines-blood-biologics/guidance-compliance-regulatory-information-biologics/biologics-guidances>, <https://www.fda.gov/regulatory-information/search-fda-guidance-documents>, or <https://www.regulations.gov>.
