

or contribute to new air quality violations, worsen existing violations, or delay timely attainment of the relevant national ambient air quality standards (NAAQS or “standards”) or interim milestones.

Transportation conformity applies under EPA’s conformity regulations at 40 CFR part 93, subpart A, to areas that are designated nonattainment, and those redesignated to attainment after 1990 (“maintenance areas” with plans developed under Clean Air Act section 175A) for the following transportation-related criteria pollutants: ozone, particulate matter (PM_{2.5} and PM₁₀), carbon monoxide (CO), and nitrogen dioxide (NO₂). EPA published the original transportation conformity rule on November 24, 1993 (58 FR 62188), and subsequently published several revisions. EPA develops the conformity regulations in coordination with the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) and Federal Transit Administration (FTA).

Transportation conformity determinations are required before federal approval or funding is given to certain types of transportation planning documents as well as non-exempt highway and transit projects.¹

EPA considered the following in renewing the existing ICR:

- Burden estimates for transportation conformity determinations (including both regional and project-level) in current nonattainment and maintenance areas for the ozone, PM_{2.5}, PM₁₀, and CO NAAQS;²
- Federal burden associated with EPA’s adequacy review process for submitted SIP motor vehicle emissions budgets that are to be used in conformity determinations;
- Efficiencies in areas making conformity determinations for multiple NAAQS;
- Differences in conformity resource needs in large and small metropolitan areas and isolated rural areas;
- Infrequency of conformity determinations in isolated rural areas;
- Reduced burden from certain areas no longer determining conformity for the 1997 annual PM_{2.5} NAAQS due to revocation;³
- Reduced burden from areas completing 20 years of maintenance for

PM₁₀, NO₂ and CO NAAQS, at which time transportation conformity is no longer required; and,

- The limited conformity requirements that apply in the 1997 ozone NAAQS areas that were not designated nonattainment for a later ozone NAAQS.

This ICR does not include burden associated with the general development of transportation planning and air quality planning documents for meeting other federal requirements.

Form Numbers: None.

Respondents/affected entities: Entities potentially affected by this action are metropolitan planning organizations (MPOs), state departments of transportation, local transit agencies, and state and local air quality agencies. Federal agencies potentially affected by this action include FHWA, FTA, and EPA.

Respondent’s obligation to respond: Mandatory pursuant to Clean Air Act section 176(c) (42 U.S.C. 7506(c)) and 40 CFR and Part 93 Subpart A.

Estimated number of respondents: EPA estimates that 102 MPOs will be subject to transportation conformity requirements during the period covered by this ICR and that EPA Regional Offices, FHWA, and FTA will be involved in interagency consultation, and review of MPO transportation-related conformity determinations during this process. EPA also estimates that similar consultation will occur for project-level conformity determinations in isolated rural areas. In addition, there are 46 MPOs that determine conformity only for the 1997 ozone NAAQS that are also accounted for, but their conformity-related requirements are estimated to be limited and less burdensome due to the circumstances with that NAAQS.

Frequency of response: The information collections described in this ICR must be completed before a transportation plan, TIP, or project conformity determination is made. The Clean Air Act requires conformity to be determined for transportation plans and TIPs every four years. Conformity determinations on projects in metropolitan and isolated rural areas are required on an as-needed basis.

Total estimated burden: 42,481 hours (per year). Burden is defined at 5 CFR 1320.3(b).

Total estimated cost: $2,946,914 (per year), includes zero annualized capital or operation and maintenance costs.

Changes in Estimates: There is a decrease of 8,590 hours in the total estimated respondent burden compared with the ICR currently approved by OMB. This decrease is due to PM₁₀, NO₂, and CO areas reaching the end of the 20-year maintenance period, beyond which transportation conformity is not required, as well as fewer transportation conformity determinations for areas previously designated nonattainment or maintenance for the 1997 annual PM_{2.5} NAAQS and the 1997 ozone NAAQS. Additionally, EPA updated its assumptions about the frequency of conformity determinations in isolated rural areas, which reduced the number of actions and resulting burden hours compared to previous ICRs.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Paperwork Reduction Act

Under the PRA (44 U.S.C. 3501–3520), Federal agencies must obtain approval from OMB for each collection of information they conduct or sponsor. “Collection of information” is defined in 44 U.S.C. 3502(3) and 5 CFR 1320.3(c) to include agency requests or requirements that ten or more persons submit information to a third party.

Section 3506(c)(2)(A) of title 44 requires Federal agencies to provide a 60-day notice¹ in the Federal Register concerning each proposed collection of information, including each proposed extension of an existing collection of information, before submitting the collection of information to OMB for approval. FHFA’s collection of information set forth in this document is titled “Federal Home Loan Bank Capital Stock” (assigned control number 2590–0002 by OMB). To comply with the PRA requirement, FHFA is publishing notice of a proposed three-year extension of this collection of information and renewal of the control number, which is due to expire on November 30, 2023.

B. Background

The Federal Home Loan Bank System consists of eleven regional Federal Home Loan Banks (Banks) and the Office of Finance (a joint office that issues and services the Banks’ debt securities). The Banks are wholesale financial institutions, organized under authority of the Federal Home Loan Bank Act (Bank Act) to serve the public interest by enhancing the availability of residential housing finance and community lending credit through their member institutions and, to a limited extent, through certain eligible nonmembers. Each Bank is structured as a regional cooperative that is owned and controlled by member institutions located within its district, which are also its primary customers. An institution that is eligible for membership in a particular Bank must purchase and hold a prescribed minimum amount of the Bank’s capital stock in order to become and remain a member of that Bank. With limited exceptions, only an institution that is a member of a Bank may obtain access to low cost secured loans, known as advances, or other products provided by that Bank.

Section 6 of the Bank Act establishes capital requirements for the Banks and requires FHFA to issue regulations prescribing uniform capital standards applicable to all of the Banks.² Section 6 also establishes parameters relating to the Banks’ capital structures and requires that each Bank adopt a “capital structure plan” (capital plan) to establish, within those statutory parameters, its own capital structure and to establish requirements for, and govern transactions in, the Bank’s capital stock.³ FHFA’s regulations on Bank Capital Requirements, Capital Stock, and Capital Plans are located at 12 CFR part 1277.

C. Need For and Use of the Information Collection

Both the Bank Act and FHFA’s regulations state that a Bank’s capital plan must require its members to maintain a minimum investment in the Bank’s capital stock, but both permit each Bank to determine for itself what that minimum investment is and how each member’s required minimum investment is to be calculated.⁴ Although each Bank’s capital plan establishes a slightly different method for calculating the required minimum stock investment for its members, each Bank’s method is tied to some degree to both the level of assets held by the member institution (typically referred to as a “membership stock purchase requirement”) and the amount of advances or other business engaged in between the member and the Bank (typically referred to as an “activity-based stock purchase requirement”).

A Bank must collect information from its members to determine the minimum capital stock investment each member is required to maintain at any point in time. Although the information needed to calculate a member’s required minimum investment and the precise method through which it is collected differ somewhat from Bank to Bank, the Banks typically collect two types of information. First, in order to calculate and monitor compliance with its membership stock purchase requirement, a Bank typically requires each member to provide and/or confirm an annual report on the amount and types of assets held by that institution. Second, each time a Bank engages in a business transaction with a member, the Bank typically confirms with the member the amount of additional Bank capital stock, if any, the member must acquire in order to satisfy the Bank’s activity-based stock purchase requirement and the method through which the member will acquire that stock.

The OMB number for the information collection is 2590–0002, which is due to expire on November 30, 2023. The likely respondents include current and former Bank members and institutions applying for Bank membership.

¹ Following the close of this notice’s 60-day comment period, FHFA will publish a second notice with a 30-day comment period as required by 44 U.S.C. 3507(b) and 5 CFR 1320.10(a).

² See 12 U.S.C. 1426(a).

D. Burden Estimate

FHFA has analyzed the time burden imposed on respondents by the two collections under this control number and estimates that the average total annual hour burden imposed on all respondents over the next three years will be 20,245 hours. The estimate for each collection was calculated as follows:

1. Membership Stock Purchase Requirement Submissions

FHFA estimates that the average annual number of current and former members and applicants for membership required to report information needed to calculate a membership stock purchase requirement will be 6,550, and that each institution will submit one report per year, resulting in an estimated total of 6,550 submissions annually. The estimate for the average time required to prepare, review, and submit each report is 0.7 hours. Accordingly, the estimate for the annual hour burden associated with membership stock purchase requirement submissions is (6,550 reports x 0.7 hours per report) = 4,585 hours.

2. Activity-Based Stock Purchase Requirement Submissions

FHFA estimates that the average number of daily transactions between Banks and members that will require the exchange of information to confirm the member's activity-based stock purchase requirement will be 300, and that there will be an average of 261 working days per year, resulting in an estimated 78,300 submissions annually. The estimate for the average preparation time per submission is 0.2 hours. Accordingly, the estimate for the annual hour burden associated with activity-based stock purchase requirement submissions is (78,300 submissions x 0.2 hours per submission) = 15,660 hours.

E. Comment Request

FHFA requests written comments on the following: (1) Whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of FHFA functions, including whether the information has practical utility; (2) the accuracy of FHFA's estimates of the burdens of the collection of information; (3) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information collected; and (4) ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology.
