SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background Information on the IRIS Program and Systematic Review Protocols

EPA's IRIS Program is a human health assessment program that evaluates quantitative and qualitative information on effects that may result from exposure to chemicals found in the environment. Through the IRIS Program, EPA provides high quality science-based human health assessments to support the Agency's regulatory activities and decisions to protect public health.

As part of developing a draft IRIS assessment, EPA presents a methods document, referred to as the protocol, for conducting a chemical-specific systematic review of the available scientific literature. EPA is seeking public comment on components of the protocol including the described strategies for literature searches, criteria for study inclusion or exclusion, considerations for evaluating study methods, information management for extracting data, approaches for synthesis within and across lines of evidence, and methods for derivation of toxicity values. The protocol serves to inform the subsequent development of the draft assessment and is made available to the public. EPA may update the protocol based on the evaluation of the literature, and any updates will be posted to the docket and on the IRIS website.

II. How To Submit Technical Comments to the Docket at <https://www.regulations.gov>

Submit your comments, identified by Docket ID No. EPA–HQ–ORD–2020–0182 for Vanadium and Compounds (Inhalation), by one of the following methods:

- www.regulations.gov: Follow the on-line instructions for submitting comments.
- Email: Docket_ORD@epa.gov.

- Fax: 202–566–9744.

• Mail: U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, EPA Docket Center (ORD Docket), Mail Code: 28221T, 1200 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20460. The phone number is 202–566–1752.

For information on visiting the EPA Docket Center Public Reading Room, visit <https://www.epa.gov/dockets>. The telephone number for the Public Reading Room is 202–566–1744. The public can submit comments via www.regulations.gov or email.

Instructions: Direct your comments to docket number EPA–HQ–ORD–2020–0182 for vanadium. Please ensure that your comments are submitted within the specified comment period.

Comments received after the closing date will be marked “late,” and may only be considered if time permits. It is EPA's policy to include all comments it receives in the public docket without change and to make the comments available online at <https://www.regulations.gov>, including any personal information provided, unless a comment includes information claimed to be Confidential Business Information (CBI) or other information for which disclosure is restricted by statute. Do not submit information through <https://www.regulations.gov> or email that you consider to be CBI or otherwise protected. The <https://www.regulations.gov> website is an “anonymous access” system, which means EPA will not know your identity or contact information unless you provide it in the body of your comment.

If you send an email comment directly to EPA without going through <https://www.regulations.gov>, your email address will be automatically captured and included as part of the comment that is placed in the public docket and made available on the internet. If you submit an electronic comment, EPA recommends that you include your name and other contact information in the body of your comment and with any disk or CD–ROM you submit. If EPA cannot read your comment due to technical difficulties and cannot contact you for clarification, EPA may not be able to consider your comment. Electronic files should avoid the use of special characters, any form of encryption, and be free of any defects or viruses. For additional information about EPA's public docket, visit the EPA Docket Center homepage at <https://www.epa.gov/dockets>.

GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

[Notice-MA-2023-06; Docket No. 2023-0002; Sequence No. 7]

Federal Travel Regulation (FTR); First Class and Business Class Transportation Reporting Requirements

AGENCY: Office of Government-wide Policy (OGP), General Services Administration (GSA).

ACTION: Notice of GSA Bulletin FTR 23-07, first class and business class transportation reporting requirements.

SUMMARY: FTR Bulletin 23-07 clarifies the information agencies are required to report on the authorized use of first class and business class transportation accommodations and how to determine the comparative coach class accommodations. This bulletin also rescinds FTR Bulletin 20-05.

DATES: Applicable: August 28, 2023.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For clarification of content, contact LaMan Dantzler J.D., Office of Government-wide Policy, Office of Asset and Transportation Management, at 202-615-5399 or travelpolicy@gsa.gov. Please cite Notice of GSA Bulletin FTR 23-07.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: GSA amended the FTR by introducing premium economy airline accommodations as a class of service, creating management controls related to the use thereof, and changing the deadline for reporting the use of first class and business class transportation accommodations. This rule, titled “Common Carrier Transportation,” and published at 87 FR 55699, on September 12, 2022, did not change the requirement for agencies to report the use of all first class and business class transportation accommodations which exceed the coach class fare, nor did it change the requirement for agencies to report the use of extra-fare train service. However, since publishing 87 FR 55699, Common Carrier Transportation, GSA has received questions from agencies on how to determine the comparative cost of a coach class train fare when the use of an extra-fare train is authorized. In accordance with 41 CFR 300-70.101, FTR Bulletin 23-07 clarifies the information agencies are required to report on the authorized use of first class and business class transportation accommodations and how to determine the comparative coach class accommodations. This bulletin also rescinds FTR Bulletin 20-05, published at 85 FR 17890, on March 31, 2020.
