Background

On October 7, 2022, BIS released the interim final rule (IFR) “Implementation of Additional Export Controls: Certain Advanced Computing and Semiconductor Manufacturing Items; Supercomputer and Semiconductor End Use; Entity List Modification” (October 7 IFR) (87 FR 62186), which amended the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) to implement controls on advanced computing integrated circuits (ICs), computer commodities that contain such ICs, and certain semiconductor manufacturing items, and to make other EAR changes to implement appropriate related controls, including on certain “U.S. person” activities.

In October 2023, BIS took further regulatory actions to address the national security and foreign policy concerns identified in the October 7 IFR. Specifically, on October 25, 2023, BIS is publishing in the Federal Register two interim final rules, “Implementation of Additional Export Controls: Certain Advanced Computing Items; Supercomputer and Semiconductor End Use; Updates and Corrections” and “Export Controls on Semiconductor Manufacturing Items,” which were both filed for public inspection at the Federal Register on October 18, 2023. BIS published an associated final rule, “Entity List Additions,” in the Federal Register on October 19, 2023 (88 FR 71991).

On November 6, 2023, Assistant Secretary for Export Administration Thea D. Rozman Kendler will conduct a public briefing on these two interim final rules and one final rule. This announcement provides details on the procedures for attending the public briefing call. Scope of the Briefing and Process for Submitting Questions

The briefing conducted by Assistant Secretary Kendler will address important aspects of the two interim final rules and one final rule.

Note that no public comments will be accepted during the public briefing, which will be held virtually via audio only. Such questions will be addressed as time and subject matter permit. Questions that have general applicability may be addressed in frequently asked questions (FAQs) that BIS is developing for these two interim final rules. Questions or comments received for the public briefing will not be considered public comments on the two interim final rules. See the process in the next paragraph for how to submit comments on the two interim final rules.
