Introduction

As a part of the transformation of the Office of Foreign Disaster Assistance (OFDA) and Food For Peace (FFP) into BHA in 2020, we enlisted the support of USAID Staff Care organizational consultants to both assess the cultures of FFP and OFDA, and then engage staff in the design of a BHA culture that melds the best of both offices. To that end, BHA conducted a cultural assessment survey in March/April 2020, which has informed Staff Care's culture work with BHA offices and senior management. This culminated in a July 2021 workshop where office representatives integrated all the office-level work on culture into a BHA-wide culture document.*

In 2021 BHA conducted a second culture survey. This survey was implemented and analyzed by the Training Resources Group, Inc. (TRG) to ensure confidentiality of responses. TRG analyzed the data and shared results from the survey with BHA leadership and staff in early 2022. Subsequently, BHA Offices held meetings to focus on individual office results and action planning discussions.

The 2021 survey provides baseline data for our 2023 survey. This year's survey will allow us to gauge the process to date on developing a BHA culture.

Your participation is critical, so please note this survey is confidential. While we will be requesting demographic information so that we can analyze survey responses in a variety of ways, this information will not be attached to individuals who respond, and TRG consultants will be the only ones with access to the raw data.

*(Culture for the purposes of this survey means BHA's values, norms and behaviors that guide and inform BHA staff and how we work together.)

Unit defined as: The immediate BHA team/office/group that you work closest with.

Bureau leadership defined as: BHA Front Office, Office directors based in Washington DC.

Privacy Act Statement

In accordance with E.O. 14035: Executive Order on Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Accessibility in the Federal Workforce, we are collecting information relating to the culture of BHA and to the morale of all of our employees to help inform efforts to improve workplace culture.

BHA intends to use the voluntarily-given basic demographic information along with responses gauging morale and workplace culture at an aggregate level to examine where pain points in BHA's approach to work may be. With information about how employees of different genders, sexual identities, hiring mechanisms, disability statuses, and racial or ethnic groups feel about their unit and BHA's culture, office and bureau leadership will be better informed about how to focus and prioritize efforts related to culture change. Identifying how staff feel about their workplace culture and what factors are affecting their morale will allow leaders at all levels in the bureau to create a better culture and improve conditions for groups where needed. The survey will be sent to staff at their USAID email address, the survey will indicate that staff will be asked for their consent to share demographic data, which they may decline to provide at their discretion. Staff will be notified about the purpose of the collection, what will be done with the information provided, and how the information will be retained and protected.

We will use this information to inform office and bureau-level follow up actions. Additionally, leaders at different levels in the bureau will be able to use the disaggregated data to inform their office culture improvement action plans. We plan to conduct annual cultural surveys to continue to track and invest in BHA culture change over time. Information will not be shared with any other entity or source, and will not be used for any other purpose beyond what is specified here.

In order to isolate the data from anyone who would have the ability to identify participants, our consultant partner, the Training Resources Group, Inc. (TRG), will execute, house, and disaggregate the data from this survey, protecting this information with the utmost integrity in accordance with their corporate privacy policies. No PII will be collected or shared. Two individuals in TRG will have access to the raw data only through two-factor authentication. Further, raw data will be deleted after one year after which a new culture survey will be disseminated to BHA staff.
