SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The regulations in 9 CFR part 94 (referred to below as the regulations) govern the importation of certain animals and animal products into the United States to prevent the introduction of various animal diseases, including Newcastle disease and highly pathogenic avian influenza (HPAI). The regulations prohibit or restrict the importation of live poultry, poultry meat, and other poultry products from regions where these diseases are considered to exist.

Section 94.6 of the regulations contains requirements governing the importation into the United States of carcasses, meat, parts or products of carcasses, and eggs (other than hatching eggs) of poultry, game birds, or other birds from regions of the world where HPAI exists or is reasonably believed to exist. HPAI is an extremely infectious and potentially fatal form of avian influenza in birds and poultry that, once established, can spread rapidly from flock to flock. The Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) maintains a list of restricted regions it considers affected with HPAI of any subtype on the APHIS website at <https://www.aphis.usda.gov/aphis/ourfocus/animalhealth/animal-and-animal-product-import-information/animal-health-status-of-regions>.

APHIS receives notice of HPAI outbreaks from veterinary officials of the exporting country, from the World Organization for Animal Health (WOAH),¹ or from other sources the Administrator determines to be reliable.

On August 21, 2023, APHIS became aware of a European Food Safety Authority document reporting outbreaks of HPAI in Kosovo in 2022. On September 25, 2023, the Kosovo Food and Veterinary Authority confirmed the detection of HPAI in 2021 and 2022. In response to these reports, on September 29, 2023, APHIS added Kosovo to the list of regions where HPAI exists or is considered to exist, in compliance with § 94.6(a)(2)(ii). On that same date, APHIS issued an import alert notifying stakeholders that APHIS imposed restrictions on the importation of poultry, commercial birds, ratites, avian hatching eggs, unprocessed avian products and byproducts, and certain fresh poultry commodities originating from or transiting Kosovo to mitigate risk of HPAI introduction in the United States.

On October 17, 2023, the veterinary authorities of Mozambique reported to the WOA the occurrence of HPAI in that country. In response to that report, on October 20, 2023, after confirming that HPAI occurred in commercial birds and poultry, APHIS added Mozambique to the list of regions where HPAI exists or is considered to exist, in compliance with § 94.6(a)(2)(ii). On that same day, APHIS issued an import alert notifying stakeholders that APHIS imposed restrictions on the importation of poultry, commercial birds, ratites, avian hatching eggs, unprocessed avian products and byproducts, and certain fresh poultry commodities originating from or transiting Mozambique to mitigate risk of HPAI introduction into the United States.

With the publication of this notice, we are informing the public that we have added Kosovo to the list of regions APHIS considers affected with HPAI of any subtype, effective September 29, 2023; and Mozambique to the list of regions APHIS considers affected with HPAI of any subtype, effective October 20, 2023. This notice serves as an official record and public notification of these actions.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

¹ The World Organization for Animal Health internationally follows a British English spelling of "organisation" in its name; also, it was formerly the Office International des Epizooties, or OIE, but on May 28, 2022, the Organization announced that the acronym was changed from OIE to WOA.

I. Background

This notice withdraws a notice published on March 28, 2024 (89 FR 21488) and reissues, with corrected information, a request for applications to be considered for participation in the Indo-Pacific Economic Framework for Prosperity Clean Economy Investor Forum.

In May 2022, the United States launched the Indo-Pacific Economic Framework for Prosperity. IPEF is part of the Biden Administration's commitment to strengthening ties with allies and partners and tackling 21st Century economic challenges in the Indo-Pacific region.

IPEF seeks to advance resilience, sustainability, inclusiveness, economic growth, fairness, and competitiveness for the 14 IPEF partner economies—Australia, Brunei Darussalam, Fiji, India, Indonesia, Japan, Republic of Korea, Malaysia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, the United States, and Vietnam. IPEF also will provide tangible benefits that fuel economic activity and investment, promote sustainable and inclusive economic growth, and benefit workers and consumers across the region.

The IPEF partners are launching the inaugural IPEF Clean Economy Investor Forum to catalyze investment for sustainable infrastructure and climate technology across IPEF economies to advance the goals of the proposed Clean Economy Agreement, which includes increasing investment flows and financing for climate-related infrastructure, technologies, and projects in the region. The proposed Clean Economy Agreement outlines collaboration through a convening of private and institutional investors to facilitate business matching and investments, as well as sharing expertise and good practices on scaling up clean technology and infrastructure investments.

The Forum is being hosted by Singapore on June 5–6, 2024, and will be attended by the Secretary of Commerce and her counterparts from the 13 other IPEF partner countries. Its purpose is to convene a diverse set of stakeholders from across the United States and the Indo-Pacific region to gain market insights, make industry and government contacts, solidify business strategies, and identify funding for specific projects to advance the goals of the proposed Clean Economy Agreement.

The Forum will focus on the markets of the 14 partner economies that are actively engaging in the proposed Clean Economy Agreement, with a particular focus on emerging economies. The scope of climate issues in which the Forum seeks to facilitate trade and investment will be informed by issues covered in the proposed Clean Economy Agreement, including efforts towards energy security and transition, climate resilience and adaptation, and greenhouse gas emissions mitigation.

Each country will be asked to put forward individual representatives from their countries' private sectors to participate in the Forum for consideration by Singapore. Singapore will ultimately select who to invite to the Forum. The International Trade Administration seeks applications from the U.S. private sector to be recommended as participants in the Forum, including but not limited to investors, companies, and non-profit organizations.

II. Criteria

Singapore expects to invite approximately 20–50 participants from the U.S. private sector, at its discretion. ITA is seeking applications from the U.S. private sector, which it will consider based on the below criteria. Through this process, ITA will prepare recommendations for final approval by the Department and then share with Singapore for Singapore's consideration and decision. ITA is primarily focused on senior executives from organizations including investors, companies, and non-profit organizations.

Interested companies should submit their applications for immediate consideration to ITA according to the instructions in the DATES and ADDRESSES headings above. The following criteria will be used to identify prospective participants. These participants will be considered through a holistic analysis and are not required to meet each element listed below:

- (1) Level of executive representation;
- (2) Consistency of the applicant's goals and objectives with the stated scope of the Forum;
- (3) Alignment with the proposed Clean Economy Agreement objectives;

- (5) Ability to fulfill and support the objectives of the Forum (e.g., significant funds and/or assets to support the types of projects envisioned); and
- (6) Headquarters in the United States.

The Department may consider other information as it deems relevant and may request additional information/clarification from applicants. The Department will consider applications previously submitted in response to the withdrawn notice and request for applications published on March 28, 2024 (89 FR 21488); applicants need not resubmit information.

Please do not send company or organization brochures.

Applications received after April 16, 2024 will be considered only if space and scheduling constraints permit and if Singapore continues to accept recommendations.

Applicants selected to be recommended to Singapore will be notified.
