

interest rates, unaffordable repayment terms, and other conditions that can result in a loss of equity, increased debt, default, and possible foreclosure. Counselors may also provide reverse mortgage counseling to senior homeowners who seek to convert equity in their homes to pay for home improvements, medical costs, living expenses or other expenses. Additionally, housing counselors may distribute and be a resource for information concerning Fair Housing and Fair Lending. The Housing Counseling Program is instrumental to the achievement of HUD's mission. The Program's far-reaching effects support numerous departmental programs, including Federal Housing Administration (FHA) single family housing programs.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This notice informs the public that HUD is seeking approval from OMB for the information collection described in Section A.

A. Overview of Information Collection

Title of Information Collection: HUD Correspondence Tracking System Correspondence Portal.

OMB Approval Number: 2501-NEW.

Type of Request: Modified collection.

Form Number: N/A.

Description of the need for the information and proposed use: HUD collects information about customers for mission-related use that contact the Agency with questions and/or comments. Respondents have the ability to submit their electronic requests through the Public Access Link. The HUD staff then enters the information into the system to support answering the public question/comment. If the inquiry can be answered immediately, then HUD addresses the request. If the inquiry requires follow-up, then the customer's information is collected for a future response. Minimum data is collected to create an interaction history between the individual and HUD, name, home address, email address, or phone number. HUD accepts electronic submissions from respondents through the Public Access Link, which reduces the burden on the public.

Respondents: Individuals who wish to contact the Agency with questions and/or comments.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 582.

Frequency of Response: 1.

Estimated Number of Responses: 582.

Average Hours per Response: 0.33.
