BILLING CODE 7710–FW–P

PRESIDIO TRUST

Privacy Act of 1974; System of Records

AGENCY: The Presidio Trust.

ACTION: Notice of a new system of records.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, the Presidio Trust is issuing a public notice of its intent to establish an Automated License Plate Recognition Program, system of records. INTERIOR PRESIDIO TRUST/Department of Public Safety-01, Automated License Plate Recognition (ALPR) system.

DATES: This system of records is effective upon publication. New routine uses will be effective May 22, 2024.

ADDRESSES: You may send comments via email to the interim Privacy Officer, within Presidio Trust’s Department of Administration, Luke Donohue, LDonohue@presidiotrust.gov or via U.S. Mail 1750 Lincoln Blvd. San Francisco, CA, 94129.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Luke Donohue, interim Privacy Officer, Presidio Trust, 1750 Lincoln Blvd. San Francisco, CA, 94129, LDonohue@presidiotrust.gov, (415) 317–8910.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Presidio Trust, Internal-01, is establishing Automated License Plate Recognition (ALPR) systems of records. The purpose of the Automated License Plate Recognition (ALPR) system is to provide law enforcement agencies and the Director of the Department of Public Safety with a tool to assist with investigations and crime prevention. Additionally, vehicular behavior habits through its gates of entry can be observed. The Flock Safety ALPR technology captures images of license plates and stores the plate data along with the location and time of capture.

Flock Safety's system consists of cameras and a cloud-based computing system which captures a whole or partial license plate number as well as make, model, and color of the vehicle. All collected data is encrypted using AES-256 encryption with a secure cloud server. Flock Safety allows the customer to own the data collected; the information is not shared or sold with third parties. The images in the system are collected from areas visible to the public where there is no reasonable expectation of privacy. The data collected may include license plate (whole or partial) images, vehicle make/model/color, and a record of the date, time, and location when the image was collected. The system creates a searchable computerized database, segmented by customer, resulting from the Flock Safety ALPR cameras in use by Flock Safety customers. The Flock Safety cameras are installed in a position to capture the license plate area of the vehicle and are focused in such a manner, that avoids collecting unintended images such as the driver or pedestrian(s).

Individuals generally will not have the opportunity to consent to the collection or use of the recording of their images or activities. Individuals who enter onto Federal properties and public areas do not have a reasonable expectation of privacy. Presidio Trust areas may have signs posted that inform individuals of surveillance activities, but in many cases notice may not be provided, or consent obtained for images captured during law enforcement operations or activities.

The Privacy Act of 1974 articulates concepts of how the Federal Government should treat individuals and their information, and imposes duties upon Federal agencies regarding the collection, use, dissemination, and maintenance of personally identifiable information. The Homeland Security Act of 2002 section 222(2) states that the Chief Privacy Officer shall assure that information is handled in full compliance with the fair information practices as set out in the Privacy Act of 1974. 45 U.S.C. 142(a)(2).

Flock Safety stores all collected data on a secured portal for 30 days on their cloud through Amazon Web Services (AWS) using AES256 bit encryption, which is one of the highest encryption protections in industry standards. All information is encrypted in transit from camera to cloud storage and encrypted at rest in the cloud. Multi-factor secured VPN access is needed to use the secured off-site database.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR STORAGE OF RECORDS:

Records in this system can be retrieved by an authorized user, either by querying within the application or generating a report. All functions and features are password protected, with multi-factor authorization. The physical security of the Flock Safety data center is managed by Amazon AWS data centers, using AES256 bit encryption, and physical access to the Flock Safety office is restricted to authorized personnel only. Additionally, The Information Security program at Flock Safety aligns with industry recognized security frameworks including: System and Organization Controls (SOC) 2 Type II, SOC 3 Type II, NIST Cybersecurity Framework, Cloud Security Alliance's Cloud Control Matrix, AWS Foundational Security Best Practices, and CIS AWS Foundations Benchmarks.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR RETRIEVAL OF RECORDS:

Flock Safety uses administrative, operational, technical, and physical safeguards to protect ALPR information from unauthorized access, use, destruction, modification, or disclosure. Access to the system is granted by an agency administrator (the Director of Public Safety) and is protected by Username, password, and multi-factor authentication.

Flock Safety gives the Presidio Trust full discretion as to how to manage its system and can limit access for the individual user or their role within the Presidio Trust's administration. Furthermore, Flock Safety tracks all user activity within the system. In addition, system searches are strictly tracked and require the user to provide a reason for every inquiry. This limits misuse or abuse of the system. Monitoring and auditing usage of the system can be conducted by the agency administrator. All logins and queries will be stored and monitored including: Username, Date, Time, Purpose of query, License plate and other elements used to query the system.

These data points will be stored in the Flock Safety system, and periodic audits will be conducted according to the policies of each Flock Safety customer to ensure access was made by authorized persons for legitimate purposes.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR RETENTION AND DISPOSAL OF RECORDS:

V Flock Safety will store the data (data hosting) and ensure proper maintenance and security of data stored in their cloud-based system. Flock Safety will also oversee purging data at the end of the 30 days of storage. Multi-factor secured VPN access to database, and a secure off-site database are used. In the unlikely event of an information breach, all individuals who are believed to be affected or have their information compromised will be notified by the Flock Safety Chief Technology Officer (CTO) or Chief Product Office (CPO).

After the retention period has passed, temporary records are disposed of in accordance with the applicable records schedule and Presidio Trust policy. Data is automatically deleted after 30 day retention period. Records documenting incidents, investigations, or activities requiring retention as evidence are exported as a hashed copy and provided to the appropriate evidence custodian. Records may be retained and disposed of by a receiving agency pursuant to their applicable records schedule(s). Monitoring and auditing usage of the system can be conducted by the administrator, the Director of Public Safety.

ADMINISTRATIVE, TECHNICAL, AND PHYSICAL SAFEGUARDS:

Flock Safety uses administrative, operational, technical, and physical safeguards to protect ALPR information from unauthorized access, use, destruction, modification, or disclosure. The Information Security program at Flock Safety aligns with SOC 2 Type II, SOC 3 Type II, NIST Cybersecurity Framework, Cloud Security Alliance's Cloud Control Matrix, AWS

Foundational Security Best Practices, and CIS AWS Foundations Benchmarks.

Flock Quality Assurance: ALPR is automated. License plate images, and details of collection are included in the system without review. Although infrequent, license plate translation may be incomplete or inaccurate. Users will confirm the computer translation prior to taking any action based on ALPR results. Furthermore, Flock Safety cannot release any information collected in the Presidio without expressed consent from the Presidio Trust, Director of Public Safety, as per the contract agreement.

RAILROAD RETIREMENT BOARD

Proposed Collection; Comment Request

In accordance with the requirement of section 3506 (c)(2)(A) of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 which provides opportunity for public comment on new or revised data collections, the Railroad Retirement Board (RRB) will publish periodic summaries of proposed data collections.

Comments are invited on: (a) Whether the proposed information collection is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information has practical utility; (b) the accuracy of the RRB's estimate of the burden of the collection of the information; (c) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (d) ways to minimize the burden related to the collection of information on respondents, including the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology.

1. Title and purpose of information collection: Application for Employee Annuity Under the Railroad Retirement Act; OMB 3220–0002.

Section 2(a) of the Railroad Retirement Act (RRA) (45 U.S.C. 231a) provides for payments of age and service, disability, and supplemental annuities to qualified employees. An annuity cannot be paid until the employee stops working for a railroad employer. In addition, the age and service employee must relinquish any rights held to such jobs. A disabled employee does not need to relinquish employee rights until attaining Full Retirement Age, or if earlier, when their spouse is awarded a spouse annuity. Benefits become payable after the employee meets certain other requirements, which depend on the type of annuity payable. The requirements for obtaining the annuities are prescribed in 20 CFR 216 and 220.

To collect the information needed to help determine an applicant's entitlement to, and the amount of, an employee retirement annuity the RRB uses Forms AA–1, Application for Employee Annuity; AA–1d, Application for Determination of Employee Disability; G–204, Verification of Workers Compensation/Public Disability Benefit Information, and electronic Forms AA–1cert, Application Summary and Certification, AA–1sum, Application Summary, and AA–1 (internet), Application for Employee Annuity.

The AA–1 application process obtains information from an applicant about their marital history, work history, military service, benefits from other governmental agencies, railroad pensions and Medicare entitlement for either an age and service or disability annuity. An RRB representative interviews the applicant either at a field office, an itinerant point, or by telephone. During the interview, the RRB representative enters the information obtained into an on-line information system. Upon completion of the interview, the on-line information system generates Form AA–1cert, Application Summary and Certification, or Form AA–1sum, Application Summary, a summary of the information that was provided for the applicant to review and approve. Form AA–1cert documents approval using the traditional pen and ink "wet" signature, and Form AA–1sum documents approval using the alternative signature method called Attestation. When the RRB representative is unable to contact the applicant in person or by telephone, for example, the applicant lives in another country, a manual version of Form AA–1 is used.

Form AA–1d, Application for Determination of Employee's Disability, is completed by an employee who is filing for a disability annuity under the RRA, or a disability freeze under the Social Security Act, for early Medicare based on a disability. Form G–204, Verification of Worker's Compensation/Public Disability Benefit Information, is used to obtain and verify information concerning a worker's compensation or a public disability benefit that is or will be paid by a public agency to a disabled railroad employee. Form AA–1 (internet) can be completed by the applicant and submitted through the RRB's website at www.rrb.gov. One response is requested of each respondent. Completion of the forms is required to obtain/retain a benefit. The RRB proposes no changes to Form AA–1, Form AA–1 (internet), and Form G–204. The RRB proposes a minor editorial change to Form AA–1cert and Form AA–1sum to correct the title of the RB–9 booklet. The RRB proposes minor changes to Form AA–1d:

- Section 1, General Instructions, the date is being updated to 06/06/23 in the 3rd paragraph.
- Section 7 question 38, The entry in parentheses associated with the question now reads (Do not include any self-employment, unemployment or sickness benefits.)
- Section 8 question 45, has been changed to: Are you filing a form AA–1, Application for Employee Annuity, in connection with this application?
- Section 12 of the form. Under the Receipt for your claim section, the last sentence should read: Offices are open to public 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, and closed Federal holidays.
