NATIONAL AERONAUTICS AND SPACE ADMINISTRATION

[NOTICE: 24-029]

Adoption of a Department of the Air Force Categorical Exclusion Under the National Environmental Policy Act

AGENCY: National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

ACTION: Notice of adoption of categorical exclusion.

SUMMARY: The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) is adopting the Department of Air Force (DAF) Categorical Exclusion (CATEX) A2.3.34, Supersonic flying operations over land and above 30,000 feet Mean Sea Level, or over water and above 10,000 feet Mean Sea Level and more than 15 nautical miles from land, under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) to use in NASA’s program and funding opportunities administered by NASA. This notice describes the categories of proposed actions for which NASA intends to use DAF’s CATEX and describes the consultation between the agencies.

DATES: The categorical exclusion is adopted April 25, 2024.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Amy Keith, NASA Headquarters, Environmental Management Division by phone at 256-701-2815 or by email amy.keith@nasa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

NEPA and CATEXs

The National Environmental Policy Act, as amended (42 U.S.C. 4321–4347) (NEPA), requires all Federal agencies to assess the environmental impact of their actions. Congress enacted NEPA in order to encourage productive and enjoyable harmony between humans and the environment, recognizing the profound impact of human activity and the critical importance of restoring and maintaining environmental quality to the overall welfare of humankind. 42 U.S.C. 4321, 4331. NEPA’s twin aims are to ensure agencies consider the environmental effects of their proposed actions in their decision-making processes and inform and involve the public in that process. 42 U.S.C. 4331. NEPA created the Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ), which promulgated NEPA implementing regulations, 40 CFR parts 1500 through 1508 (CEQ regulations).

To comply with NEPA, agencies determine the appropriate level of review—an environmental impact statement (EIS), environmental assessment (EA), or categorical exclusion (CATEX). 42 U.S.C. 4336. If a proposed action is likely to have significant environmental effects, the agency must prepare an EIS and document its decision in a record of decision. 42 U.S.C. 4336. If the proposed action is not likely to have significant environmental effects or the effects are unknown, the agency may instead prepare an EA, which involves a more concise analysis and process than an EIS. 42 U.S.C. 4336. Following the EA, the agency may conclude the process with a finding of no significant impact if the analysis shows that the action will have no significant effects. If, however, the analysis in the EA finds that the action is likely to have significant effects which cannot be mitigated below a significant level, then an EIS is required.

Under NEPA and the CEQ regulations, a Federal agency also can establish CATEXs—categories of actions that the agency has determined normally do not significantly affect the quality of the human environment—in their agency NEPA procedures. 42 U.S.C. 4336(e)(1); 40 CFR 1501.4, 1507.3(e)(2)(ii), 1508.1(d). If an agency determines that a CATEX covers a proposed action, it then evaluates the proposed action for extraordinary circumstances in which a normally excluded action may have a significant effect. 40 CFR 1501.4(b). If no extraordinary circumstances are present or if further analysis determines that the extraordinary circumstances do not involve the potential for significant environmental impacts, the agency may apply the CATEX to the proposed action without preparing an EA or EIS. 42 U.S.C. 4336(a)(2), 40 CFR 1501.4. If the extraordinary circumstances have the potential to result in significant effects, the agency is required to prepare an EA or EIS.

Section 109 of NEPA, enacted as part of the Fiscal Responsibility Act of 2023, allows a Federal agency to “adopt” or use another agency’s CATEX for a category of proposed agency actions. 42 U.S.C. 4336(c). To use another agency’s CATEX under section 109, an agency must identify the relevant CATEX listed in another agency’s (“establishing agency”) NEPA procedures that cover its category of proposed actions or related actions; consult with the establishing agency to ensure that the proposed adoption of the CATEX to a category of actions is appropriate; identify to the public the CATEX that the agency plans to use for its proposed actions; and document adoption of the CATEX. Id. This notice documents NASA’s adoption of Department of the Air Force (DAF) CATEX A2.3.34., Supersonic flying operations over land and above 30,000 feet Mean Sea Level, or over water and above 10,000 feet Mean Sea Level and more than 15 nautical miles from land, under section 109 of NEPA to use in NASA’s programs and funding opportunities, including those administered by NASA’s Quesst mission.

NASA’s Program

NASA’s Quesst mission is working with the international community to develop standards needed to open the commercial market to supersonic flight.
