

authorizations relating to the provision to Iran and importation from Iran of certain hardware, software, and services incident to personal communications. GL D–1 made minor amendments to the Annex from GL D. On September 23, 2022, OFAC issued GL D–2, which replaced and superseded GL D–1 in its entirety. GL D–2 was made available on OFAC’s website and in the Federal Register (87 FR 62003, October 13, 2022), and updated and clarified GL D–1 by, among other things: removing the “personal” qualifier from the authorization for software and services incident to “personal communication” and providing additional examples of certain modern types of software and services that are incident to the exchange of communications.

OFAC is now publishing the list of items previously included in the annexes to GL D, GL D–1, and GL D–2 as the 31 CFR 560.540 List of Services, Software, and Hardware Incident to Communications (the “List”). The text of the List is provided below. Concurrently, OFAC is publishing an updated version of the List that will restrict the computing power of laptops, tablets, and personal computing devices authorized for exportation or reexportation to Iran under category (5) of the List, effective 30 days after publication in the Federal Register.
