

adopted in the HM-234 final rule, and on the proposed provisions in the NCWM petition.

III. PHMSA's Current Tare Weight Marking Requirement for Cylinders

The HMR mandates in § 178.35(f) that DOT 4B, 4BA, 4BW, and 4E cylinders—used for liquefied compressed gases—be marked with either tare weight or mass weight, in addition to the water capacity. For cylinders weighing 25 pounds or less at the time of manufacture, a variance is permitted with a lower tolerance of three (3) percent and an upper tolerance of one (1) percent. For cylinders weighing more than 25 pounds at the time of manufacture, a variance is allowed with a lower tolerance of two (2) percent and an upper tolerance of one (1) percent. If mass weight marking is chosen over tare weight marking, the same variance tolerances apply based on whether the manufacturing mass exceeds or is at or under 25 pounds.

IV. Request for Feedback

PHMSA requests comment on the following questions to better inform potential regulatory revisions. For all questions, please explain your answers and provide any economic, technical, or other information available to you as justification for your response:

1. Do you believe the current language for the marking of DOT cylinders in § 178.35(f)(8) leads to confusion between marked tare weight at the time of manufacture and the stamped tare weight for the filling of cylinders?
2. How should PHMSA revise the requirements in § 178.35(f)(8) for marking of tare weights on DOT 4B, 4BA, 4BW, and 4E cylinders used in liquefied compressed gas service?
3. What impact would PHMSA incorporating the current edition of NIST Handbook 44 for scales used to weigh cylinders containing liquefied compressed gases have on ensuring accurate scales in both direct sale applications and for prepackaging liquefied compressed gas cylinders in advance of sale?
4. What would be the impacts of PHMSA adding an “average requirement” to the tare weight regulations in § 178.35(f)(8) to improve measurement accuracy and production controls, and to ensure a business is not using the allowable differences to disadvantage consumers while at the same time maintaining safety compliance?
5. What would be the impacts of PHMSA reconsidering the allowable differences on stamped tare weight as opposed to actual tare weight and applying a ±0.5 percent tolerance for cylinders 25 pounds or less? How would PHMSA define a requirement to follow “good quality control practices” as suggested in the NCWM petition?
