Gravity Storage LLC; Notice of Preliminary Permit Application Accepted for Filing and Soliciting Comments, Motions To Intervene, and Competing Applications

On January 11, 2024, Gravity Storage, LLC (Gravity Storage), filed an application for a preliminary permit, pursuant to section 4(f) of the Federal Power Act (FPA), proposing to study the feasibility of the Escondido Canyon Pumped Storage Project.¹ The proposed project is a 2,000-megawatt (MW) closed-loop pumped storage project would be located 13 miles south of Alamogordo in Otero County, New Mexico. The sole purpose of a preliminary permit, if issued, is to grant the permit holder priority to file a license application during the permit term. A preliminary permit does not authorize the permit holder to perform any land-disturbing activities or otherwise enter upon lands or waters owned by others without the owners' express permission.

The proposed project would consist of the following new facilities: (1) a 15,340-foot-long, 75-foot-high rolled concrete dam that would impound a 176-acre upper reservoir with a storage capacity of 11,300 acre-feet at a water surface elevation of 7,560 feet above mean sea level (msl); (2) a 3,793-foot-long, 80-foot-high rockfill/concrete dam that would impound a 147-acre lower reservoir with a storage capacity of 11,300 acre-feet at a water surface elevation of 4,300 feet msl; (3) a 6,800-foot-long, 42-foot-diameter concrete penstock from the upper reservoir to eight 330-foot-long, 15-foot-diameter turbine penstocks; (4) a 1,600-foot-long, 150-foot-wide, 60-foot-high underground concrete powerhouse containing eight 250-MW pump-turbine generators; (5) a 2,750-foot-long, 42-foot-diameter concrete tailrace; (6) a 1-mile-long steel well water supply pipeline connecting to existing wells for initial fill water; (7) an 11.7-mile-long, 345-kilovolt transmission line; and (8) appurtenant facilities. Additionally, Gravity Storage proposes to install Solar Power plants on the surface of the upper and lower reservoirs to minimize evaporation due to the arid desert climate. The proposed project would have an estimated annual generation of 8,000 gigawatt-hours.
