Title: Supervisory Guidance on Stress Testing for Banking Organizations with Total Consolidated Assets of More Than $10 Billion.

OMB Control No.: 1557–0312.

Type of Review: Regular.

Affected Public: Businesses or other for-profit.

Description: The guidance outlines high-level principles for stress testing practices, applicable to all Federal Reserve-supervised, FDIC-supervised, and OCC-supervised banking organizations with more than $10 billion in total consolidated assets. The guidance highlights the importance of stress testing as an ongoing risk management practice that supports a banking organization’s forward-looking assessment of its risks and better equips the organization to address a range of adverse outcomes. In addition, the guidance sets forth high-level recommendations for the development of a stress testing framework with clearly defined objectives; well-designed scenarios tailored to the organization’s business and risks; well-documented assumptions; conceptually sound methodologies to assess potential impact to the organization’s financial condition; informative management reports; recommended actions based on stress test results; and policies and procedures for the framework. The information collected informs how banking organizations use stress testing as a component of risk management and as a tool for capital and liquidity planning. The OCC reviews such materials as part of its supervisory process, which includes review of the risk-management capabilities of OCC-supervised banking organizations.
