

containment of wheelchairs and other users on the subject lifts, and thus meet the intended safety need.

VII. NHTSA's Decision: In consideration of the foregoing, NHTSA finds that the petitioners have met their burden of persuasion that the subject FMVSS No. 403 and FMVSS No. 404 noncompliance in the affected vehicles and equipment is inconsequential to motor vehicle safety. Accordingly, the petitioners' petitions are hereby granted and Ricon and the various vehicle manufacturers are consequently exempted from the obligation of providing notification of, and a free remedy for, that noncompliance under 49 U.S.C. 30118 and 30120.

NHTSA notes that the statutory provisions (49 U.S.C. 30118(d) and 30120(h)) that permit manufacturers to file petitions for a determination of inconsequentiality allow NHTSA to exempt manufacturers only from the duties found in sections 30118 and 30120, respectively, to notify owners, purchasers, and dealers of a defect or noncompliance and to remedy the defect or noncompliance. Therefore, this decision only applies to the subject lifts and buses that the petitioners no longer controlled at the time it determined that the noncompliance existed. However, the granting of these petitions does not relieve vehicle or equipment distributors and dealers of the prohibitions on the sale, offer for sale, or introduction or delivery for introduction into interstate commerce of the noncompliant lifts and buses under their control after the petitioners notified them that the subject noncompliance existed.
