AGENCY: U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services, Department of Homeland Security.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Department of Homeland Security (DHS), U.S. Citizenship and Immigration (USCIS) will be submitting this collection of information to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) with a request for review and approval in accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995. USCIS is requesting that OMB approve this emergency revision by September 20, 2024.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Overview of This Information Collection

(1) Type of Information Collection: Emergency Revision of a Currently Approved Collection.

(2) Title of the Form/Collection: Online Request to be a Supporter and Declaration of Financial Support.

(3) Agency form number, if any, and the applicable component of the DHS sponsoring the collection: I-134A; USCIS.

(4) Abstract: USCIS uses Form I-134A to determine whether a U.S.-based individual meets the necessary qualifications to serve as a supporter of the beneficiary named on the Form I-134A for the duration of their temporary stay in the United States. This includes collecting information to conduct security checks and assess whether the supporter has sufficient financial resources and access to those funds to support the beneficiary as well as to obtain information concerning whether the beneficiary merits a favorable exercise of discretion under the statutory parole standard. Form I-134A is filed by a U.S.-based individual (the potential supporter) to request to be a supporter, agree to provide financial support to the beneficiary named on the form for the duration of the beneficiary's period of stay in the United States, and to provide information concerning why the beneficiary warrants a discretionary grant of parole.

In this request, USCIS will require submission of biometrics by supporters as a condition of submission and require payment of a biometric services fee of $30. These changes are needed to enable USCIS to better validate the identity and qualifications of the supporter(s) and perform additional background checks and security vetting. Within the 6-month period following emergency approval, USCIS will seek public comment of the information collection package as provided under 5 CFR part 1320 and the Paperwork Reduction Act.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This notice informs the public that HUD is seeking approval from OMB for the information collection described in Section A.

A. Overview of Information Collection

Title of Information Collection: 2025 American Housing Survey.

OMB Approval Number: 2528-0017.

Type of Request: Revision of a currently approved collection.

Form Number: N/A.

Description of the need for the information and proposed use: The purpose of the American Housing Survey (AHS) is to supply the public with detailed and timely information about housing quality, housing costs, and neighborhood assets, in support of effective housing policy, programs, and markets. Title 12, United States Code, Sections 1701Z-1, 1701Z-2(g), and 1710Z-10a mandates the collection of this information.

Increasing field costs and declining response rates have led HUD to adopt a continuous data collection model as opposed to the periodic 5-month data collection every other year. HUD believes continuous data collection will be more effective, primarily because: (1) it eliminates the expensive, time-consuming Regional Office AHS ramp-up costs every two years, and (2) it puts in place a more experienced AHS workforce with a constant workload. An added benefit is that we will be able to increase the frequency of national and metro AHS estimates, allowing for more current estimates and better comparability to other data sources which collect annual data (surveys such as the American Community Survey and key estimates such as homeownership/vacancy rates).

The survey will continue to be longitudinal, interviewing the same housing unit every two years. The sample will be divided into 12 cohorts where each cohort has a 2-month data collection period. Data collection will begin May 2025.

In addition to the “core” data, HUD plans to collect supplemental data on climate adaptation and mitigation, arts and culture, accessibility, doubling up, and accessory dwelling units. Additionally wording variations related to sexual orientation and gender will be tested in support of the American Community Survey Content Test.

The 2025 survey will begin a new longitudinal sample consisting of approximately 175,000 housing units. The sample is designed to provide estimates twenty metropolitan areas and at least seventeen states. An oversample of HUD-assisted housing units is included in the sample design. For the first survey cycle (2025–26) a bridge sample will be fielded. The bridge sample will be drawn from housing units that were successfully interviewed in 2023.

The bridge sample serves as an evaluation tool. If something unforeseen were to happen with the 2025 sample, the estimates from the bridge sample can measure what the 2025 estimates would have looked like if we had not redesigned the AHS sample. The bridge sample size will be 8,500.

Approximately seven percent of all interviews will be reinterviewed for the purpose of interviewer quality control (an estimated total of 12,845 housing units).

To help reduce respondent burden on households in the longitudinal sample, the 2025 AHS will make use of dependent interviewing techniques, which will decrease the number of questions asked. Policy analysts, program managers, budget analysts, and Congressional staff use AHS data to advise executive and legislative branches about housing conditions and the suitability of public policy initiatives. Academic researchers and private organizations also use AHS data in efforts of specific interest and concern to their respective communities.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) needs the AHS data for the following two reasons:

1. With the data, policy analysts can monitor the interaction among housing needs, demand and supply, as well as changes in housing conditions and costs, to aid in the development of housing policies and the design of housing programs appropriate for different target groups, such as first-time home buyers and the elderly.

2. With the data, HUD can evaluate, monitor, and design HUD programs to improve efficiency and effectiveness.
