Emergency Exemption: Issuance of Emergency Permit To Import Endangered Species

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Notice of issuance of permit.

SUMMARY: We, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, have waived the 30-day public notice period and have issued an endangered species permit for the import and release into the wild of one loggerhead sea turtle (Caretta caretta), which was rescued from the wild in Canada, for the purpose of enhancing the propagation or survival of the species. This permit is for a single import.

ADDRESSES: You may obtain materials pertaining to the permit application by submitting a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request to the Service’s FOIA office at <https://www.doi.gov/foia/foia-request-form>.

We issued the requested permit subject to certain conditions set forth in the permit. PER11660838	SeaWorld California, San Diego, CA	October 4, 2024.

SeaWorld California, of San Diego, California, requested a permit to import a female loggerhead sea turtle from the Vancouver Aquarium in British Columbia, Canada. The turtle was rescued by the Stranding Network and taken to the Vancouver Aquarium for rehabilitation. SeaWorld has imported the turtle and, after rehabilitation, will release the turtle into the wild. The Service determined that an emergency affecting the viability of the turtle existed, and that no reasonable alternative was available to the applicant.

On October 4, 2024, the Service issued permit no. PER11660838 to SeaWorld California to import a female loggerhead sea turtle from the Vancouver Aquarium in British Columbia, Canada, and release the turtle in the wild.
