

administering FDA regulations pertaining to the manufacturing/ processing, packing, or holding of food for consumption in the United States.

The Produce Regulatory Program Standards (PRPS) are the result of external collaboration and coordination with the Association of Food and Drug Officials (AFDO), the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture (NASDA), and state produce regulatory programs. FDA, NASDA, AFDO, and states worked collaboratively to develop the content of the PRPS. A copy of the standards and accompanying worksheets and forms is available in the Federal Register docket for this notice. We recommend that State and Territorial produce safety regulatory programs use these program standards as the framework to design and manage their produce safety regulatory programs. The states that assisted in the development of PRPS were representative of the 43 State and Territorial programs regulatory programs enrolled currently conducting produce safety inspections via funding from a cooperative agreement grant, “The FDA’s Cooperative Agreement Program for States and Territories to Implement a National Produce Safety Program, PAR–21–174,” (this program also includes 4 programs which do not conduct inspections). For more information on this cooperative agreement, we invite you to visit our website at: <https://www.fda.gov/federal-state-local-tribal-and-territorial-officials/grants-and-cooperative-agreements/fda-state-produce-safety-implementation-cooperative-agreement-program>.

The PRPS identifies and includes resource and training material for the following standards: regulatory foundations; training; inspection; product-specific illnesses, outbreaks and hazard response; compliance and enforcement; industry and community relations; program assessments; and product sampling and testing. We recommend using the worksheets and forms contained in the standards, however, alternate forms that are equivalent may be used. The educational worksheets and resource materials include recordkeeping and reporting activities that help FDA verify participation and successful completion of the respective requirements. In the first year of enrollment, information is used to conduct a baseline self-assessment to determine whether the materials meet the elements of each standard. In subsequent years, we use the information to conduct a comprehensive review and evaluate program effectiveness and participation. We modify the program standards based on the ongoing assessments as well as comments and informal feedback obtained from participants.

Description of Respondents: Respondents are State Departments of Agriculture or Health regulatory officials who enroll in the PRPS (State or Territorial governments). Currently we estimate 43 respondents to the information collection based on expected participation.

In the Federal Register of June 28, 2024 (89 FR 54009), FDA published a 60-day notice requesting public comment on the proposed collection of information. One comment was received that did not pertain to the information collection.

FDA estimates the burden of this collection of information as follows:

TABLE 1—ESTIMATED ANNUAL RECORDKEEPING BURDEN ¹

Respondent	Number of recordkeepers	Number of records per recordkeeper	Total annual records	Average burden per recordkeeping	Total hours
State or Territorial Governments; Maintenance of data records consistent with the PRPS	48	11	528	85.36	45,072

¹ There are no capital costs or operating and maintenance costs associated with this collection of information.
