SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On October 20, 2016, Commerce signed an agreement under section 734(c) of the Act, with representatives of Argentine lemon juice producers/exporters accounting for substantially all imports of lemon juice from Argentina, suspending the antidumping duty (AD) investigation on lemon juice from Argentina.¹

On October 30, 2023, Ventura Coastal, LLC (petitioner) filed a request for an administrative review of the 2016 Agreement.² Commerce published a notice of its initiation of the administrative review of the 2016 Agreement on December 6, 2023.³ On January 23, 2024, Commerce selected three companies as mandatory respondents, listed in alphabetical order: Argenti Lemon, Citromax, and San Miguel.⁴

On May 30, 2024, Commerce extended the deadline for completing the preliminary results of this review until October 30, 2024.⁵ On July 22, 2024, Commerce tolled certain deadlines in this administrative proceeding by seven days.⁶ The deadline for the preliminary results is now November 6, 2024. initiation of this review and these preliminary results, see the Preliminary Decision Memorandum.⁷

Scope of the 2016 Agreement

Merchandise covered by the 2016 Agreement is typically classified under the following subheadings of the Harmonized Tariff Schedules of the United States (HTSUS), according to the season of importation: 2009.39.6020, 2009.31.6020, 2009.31.4000, 2009.31.6040, and 2009.39.6040. The tariff classifications are provided for convenience and customs purposes; however, the written description of the scope of this 2016 Agreement is dispositive. For a complete description of the scope of the 2016 Agreement, see the Preliminary Decision Memorandum.

Methodology and Preliminary Results

Commerce has conducted this review in accordance with section 751(a)(1)(C) of the Act, which specifies that Commerce shall “review the current status of, and compliance with, any agreement by reason of which an investigation was suspended.” In this case, Commerce and representatives of the Argentine lemon juice producers/exporters accounting for substantially all imports of lemon juice from Argentina signed the 2016 Agreement, which suspended the underlying antidumping duty investigation, on October 20, 2016. Pursuant to the 2016 Agreement, the Argentine signatories agreed to sell subject merchandise at or above certain minimum reference prices, and that their pricing would eliminate at least 85 percent of the dumping determined in the AD investigation.⁸ The Argentine signatories also agreed to provide documentation upon request from Commerce,⁹ provide certifications each quarter,¹⁰ and provide Argentine customs data each quarter¹¹ to allow Commerce to monitor the 2016 Agreement.

After reviewing the information received from the mandatory respondents in their initial and supplemental questionnaire responses, we preliminarily determine that the mandatory respondents complied with the requirements of the 2016 Agreement during the POR. Additionally, we preliminarily determine that the 2016 Agreement functioned as intended and that the 2016 Agreement continued to meet the statutory requirements under sections 734(c) and (d) of the Act during the POR.

For a full description of the analysis underlying our conclusions, see the Preliminary Decision Memorandum. A list of topics discussed in the Preliminary Decision Memorandum is included as an appendix to this notice. The Preliminary Decision Memorandum is a public document and is on file electronically via Enforcement and Compliance’s Antidumping and Countervailing Duty Centralized Electronic Service System (ACCESS). ACCESS is available to registered users at <https://access.trade.gov>.
