SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

A. Legal Authority

Section 103(h) of the Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977 (Mine Act) as amended, 30 U.S.C. 813(h), authorizes the Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA) to collect information necessary to carry out its duty in protecting the safety and health of miners. Further, section 101(a) of the Mine Act, 30 U.S.C. 811(a), authorizes the Secretary of Labor (Secretary) to develop, promulgate, and revise, as may be appropriate, improved mandatory health or safety standards for the protection of life and prevention of injuries in coal, metal and nonmetal mines.

B. Information Collection

In order to fulfill the statutory mandates to promote miners' health and safety, MSHA requires the collection of information under the information collection request entitled Explosive Materials and Blasting Units (Pertains only to Category III Metal and Nonmetal Mines Deemed to be Gassy). The information collection is intended to determine whether nonapproved explosive materials and blasting units and procedures are safe for use in Category III mines.

All mines must use approved blasting units and explosives to ensure miner health and safety. If mine operators choose to use unapproved blasting units and explosives, they must obtain approval from MSHA before doing so. Under title 30 of the Code of Federal Regulations (30 CFR) 57.22003(a) and (a)(3), mine category III applies to all underground metal and nonmetal mines and the surface mills of Subcategory I-C mines (gilsonite) in which noncombustible ore is extracted and which liberate a concentration of methane that is explosive, or is capable of forming explosive mixtures with air, or have the potential to do so based on the history of the mine or the geological area in which the mine is located. The concentration of methane in such mines is explosive or is capable of forming explosive mixtures if mixed with air at certain composition.

1. Notifying MSHA Prior to Using Nonapproved Explosive Materials and Blasting Units

Under 30 CFR 7.4 and 15, MSHA tests and approves blasting units and explosive materials as permissible for use in mines, respectively. Under 30 CFR 57.22606(a), mine operators of Category III metal and nonmetal mines must notify the appropriate MSHA District Manager of all nonapproved explosive materials and blasting units prior to their use. Explosive materials used for blasting must be approved by MSHA under 30 CFR part 15, or nonapproved explosive materials must be evaluated and determined by the District Manager to be safe for blasting in a potentially gassy environment. The notice must also include the millisecond-delay interval between successive shots and between the first and last shot in a round.

II. Desired Focus of Comments

MSHA is soliciting comments concerning the proposed information collection entitled Explosive Materials and Blasting Units (Pertains only to Category III Metal and Nonmetal Mines Deemed to be Gassy). MSHA is particularly interested in comments that:

• Evaluate whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Agency, including whether the information has practical utility;

• Evaluate the accuracy of MSHA's estimate of the burden of the collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;

• Suggest methods to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and

• Minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology,
