Final Results of Sunset Review

Pursuant to sections 751(c)(1) and 752(c)(1) and (3) of the Act, Commerce determines that revocation of the antidumping duty order on steel hangers from China would be likely to lead to the continuation or recurrence of dumping, and that the magnitude of the margins likely to prevail would be weighted-average dumping margins up to 187.25 percent.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On November 6, 2024, Commerce published in the Federal Register its preliminary affirmative determination in the LTFV investigation of ferrosilicon from Malaysia.¹ On November 8 and 12, 2024, the petitioners² timely alleged that Commerce made significant ministerial errors in the Preliminary Determination with respect to calculation of the preliminary weighted-average dumping margins for OM Materials Sarawak Sdn. Bhd (OMSA) and Pertama Ferroalloys Sdn. Bhd (Pertama),³ respectively.

Scope of the Investigation

The product covered by this investigation is ferrosilicon from Malaysia. For a complete description of the scope of this investigation, see the Preliminary Determination.

Legal Framework

Pursuant to 19 CFR 351.224(e), Commerce will correct any significant ministerial error by amending the preliminary determination. A ministerial error is defined as including errors “in addition, subtraction, or other arithmetic function, clerical error resulting from inaccurate copying, duplication, or the like, and any other similar type of unintentional error which {Commerce} considers ministerial.”⁴ A ministerial error is considered to be “significant” if its correction, either singly or in combination with other errors, would result in: (1) a change of at least five absolute percentage points in, but not less than 25 percent of, the weighted-average dumping margin calculated in the preliminary determination; or (2) a difference between a weighted-average dumping margin of zero (or de minimis) and a weighted-average dumping margin of greater than de minimis or vice versa.⁵

Analysis of Significant Ministerial Errors

In the Preliminary Determination, Commerce made significant ministerial errors within the meaning of section 735(3) of the Act and 19 CFR 35.224(f)–

Determination,” dated November 8, 2024 (Petitioners’ OMSA Ministerial Error Allegation); see also “Ministerial Error Allegation Pertaining to Pertama in the Preliminary Determination,” dated November 12, 2024 (Petitioners’ Pertama Ministerial Error Allegation).

⁴ See section 735(e) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act); see also 19 CFR 351.224(f).

⁵ See 19 CFR 351.224(g).

⁶ See Petitioners’ OMSA Ministerial Error Allegation; see also Commerce’s Memorandum,

(g) in calculating the weighted-average dumping margins for OMSA and Pertama. Specifically, for OMSA, we included an incorrect currency conversion for OMSA’s home market costs.⁶ For Pertama, an error in our aggregation of five third-country market databases resulted in a distortion of the results of the arm’s-length test in the comparison market program.⁷

We find that these errors meet the definition of “ministerial errors,” and that the corrections of the errors for OMSA and Pertama result in a change that is at least five absolute percentage points in, and not less than 25 percent of, the margins calculated for OMSA and Pertama in the Preliminary Determination. As such, they constitute significant errors within the meaning of 19 CFR 351.224(g). Accordingly, pursuant to 19 CFR 224(e), Commerce is amending the Preliminary Determination to correct these significant ministerial errors by revising the rates for OMSA, Pertama, and all other producers and/or exporters.⁸

For a complete discussion of the alleged ministerial errors, see the Preliminary Ministerial Error Memorandum.

Amended Preliminary Negative Determination of Critical Circumstances

Because we have revised the rates calculated for OMSA, Pertama, and all other producers and/or exporters, we have also amended our preliminary analysis of critical circumstances. In accordance with section 733(e) of the Act and 19 CFR 351.206, Commerce preliminarily finds that critical circumstances do not exist for OMSA, Pertama, and all other companies not individually examined. For a full description of the results of Commerce’s critical circumstances analysis, see the Ministerial Error Memorandum.

Amended Preliminary Determination

As a result of correcting the significant ministerial errors, Commerce determines the following estimated weighted-average dumping margins exist:

⁷ See Petitioners’ Pertama Ministerial Error Allegation; see also Commerce’s Memorandum, “Preliminary Analysis Memorandum for Pertama Ferroalloys Sdn. Bhd,” dated October 31, 2024.
