

years thereafter, that such limits will not harm the stock; (b) the Commission does not receive a request from the United States or the Russian Federation for a change in the bowhead whale catch limits based on need; and (c) the Commission determines that the United States and the Russian Federation have complied with the IWC's approved timeline and that the information provided represents a status quo continuation of the hunts. At its 69th meeting in September 2024, the IWC reviewed the aboriginal subsistence whaling extension criteria and determined by consensus that all of the conditions had been met, and thus agreed to extend the ASW strike/catch limits for 6 years, for the period 2026–2031.

Other Limitations

The IWC regulations, as well as the NOAA regulation at 50 CFR 230.4(c), forbid the taking of calves or any whale accompanied by a calf.

NOAA regulations (at 50 CFR 230.4) also contain other prohibitions relating to aboriginal subsistence whaling, some of which are summarized here:

- No person, other than licensed whaling captains or crew under the control of those captains, shall engage in aboriginal subsistence whaling.
- No whaling captain shall engage in whaling that is not in accordance with the regulations of the IWC, NOAA, and the relevant cooperative agreement.
- No whaling captain shall engage in whaling without an adequate crew or without adequate supplies and equipment.
- No person may receive money for participating in the hunt.
- No person may sell or offer for sale whale products from whales taken in the hunt, except for authentic articles of Native handicrafts.
- Captains cannot continue to whale after the relevant quota is reached, after the season has been closed, or if their licenses have been suspended.
- No captain shall engage in whaling in a wasteful manner.
