

Columbia's door thresholds required cutting or machining prior to incorporation into another product, and to determine whether Worldwide's and Columbia's door thresholds qualified for the finished merchandise exclusion.⁶ On December 13, 2021, Commerce issued its Second Remand Redeterminations, in which Commerce determined that Worldwide's and Columbia's door thresholds were excluded from the Orders as finished merchandise.⁷

In Worldwide III and Columbia III, the CIT held that Commerce's Second Remand Redeterminations misconstrued aspects of the CIT's decision in Worldwide II and Columbia II and were not submitted in a form the CIT could sustain upon judicial review.⁸ The CIT directed Commerce to issue a new determination, in a form that would go into effect if sustained upon judicial review, determining whether the extruded aluminum components of Worldwide's and Columbia's door thresholds are within the scope of the Orders.⁹

In the Third Remand Redeterminations, Commerce continued to find, in accordance with the CIT's holdings, that Worldwide's and Columbia's door thresholds are outside the scope of the Orders based on the finished merchandise exclusion; Commerce also provided further explanation for the basis of that finding and clarified that Commerce did not intend to issue any other scope ruling or other agency determination subsequent to the CIT's order.¹⁰ The CIT subsequently sustained Commerce's remand redeterminations in Worldwide IV and Columbia IV.¹¹ On December 29, 2022, Commerce published a notice of court decisions not in harmony with its final scope ruling and notice of amended final scope ruling.¹²

On October 8, 2024, the Federal Circuit reversed and the CIT and sustained the non-protested portions of Commerce's First Remand Redeterminations and vacated the CIT's subsequent opinions and orders.¹³ The Federal Circuit held that Commerce's finding in the First Remand Redeterminations that the Worldwide and Columbia door thresholds at issue are subassemblies covered by the scope of the Orders is supported by substantial evidence.¹⁴

Second Amended Final Scope Ruling

Because there is now a final and conclusive court decision reinstating Commerce's scope rulings in the First Remand Redeterminations, we are amending the First Amended Final Scope Rulings with respect to Worldwide and Columbia's door thresholds.¹⁵ In accordance with the Federal Circuit's decision in Worldwide Federal Circuit, the Worldwide and Columbia door thresholds at issue in the Final Scope Rulings are subject to the Orders.

Accordingly, Commerce will instruct U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) to continue to suspend liquidation of Worldwide and Columbia's door thresholds until appropriate liquidation instructions are sent. As of the date of publication of this notice in the Federal Register, the cash deposit rate for entries of Worldwide and Columbia's door thresholds will be the applicable cash deposit rate of the exporters of the merchandise from China to the United States.

Notification to Interested Parties

This notice is issued and published in accordance with sections 516A(c)(1) and (e)(1), and 777(i)(1) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.
