One cultural item has been requested for repatriation. The one sacred object and object of cultural patrimony, catalog 2–18785, is a coiled basket donated in 2014 by an individual who bought several Native American baskets, including 2–18785, from an Oregon collector. The collector was said to be an expert on Native American basketry. A note from the donor reads, “. . . baskets were made circa 1910 for trade with Missionaries- I think they are by the Navaho tribe.” Museum staff have described the coiled basket as “Mission style” and attributed it to Cahuilla, Cupeño, or Serrano cultural groups. There is no additional information in the Museum's
